THE 1922 QUIPS AND CRANKS

Invocation

Haste thee, Nymph,
And bring with thee ~
Jest and youthful jollity;
Quips and Cranks,
And wanton wiles,
Nods and becks, and Wreathed Smiles ~

Foreword

DAVIDSON spirit, an intangible thing, yet withal a tremendous power in swaying the morale of the student body and moulding the character of its activities is typified in the pages that follow. In presenting this volume for the consideration of its readers, the editors have attempted to re-create on paper, some permanent record of that influence which has made our college not only a famous institution of learning, but a moulder of true men. The past has been called on; the present is given its due credit; but the future---that is left to be portrayed in the pages of the life of each individual student now on the campus.

In Memoriam.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

WILLIAM PRESTON NESBITT, JR.

"Willie P."

Piedmont, South Carolina

Class '21.

Age, 20; Height, 5' 11"; 140 Lbs.

Davidson College Band.

"Willie P." is quite a musical genius. In the band he plays everything from a cornet to a trombone, including even the slide whistle and the bass drum. Aside from music, his diversions are confined to the pursuit of high and intricate mathematical processes and the upholding of his record for an unflinching attendance at Sunday School. For this attendance record he has received a string of medals which would dazzle a Boy Scout or a Chinese Ambassador. He is a quiet, thoughtful man whose future success is assured and upon whom Davidson is proud to bestow her M.A.

JOHN DIGGS SPRAGINS, JR.

"John"

Hope, Arkansas

M.A.

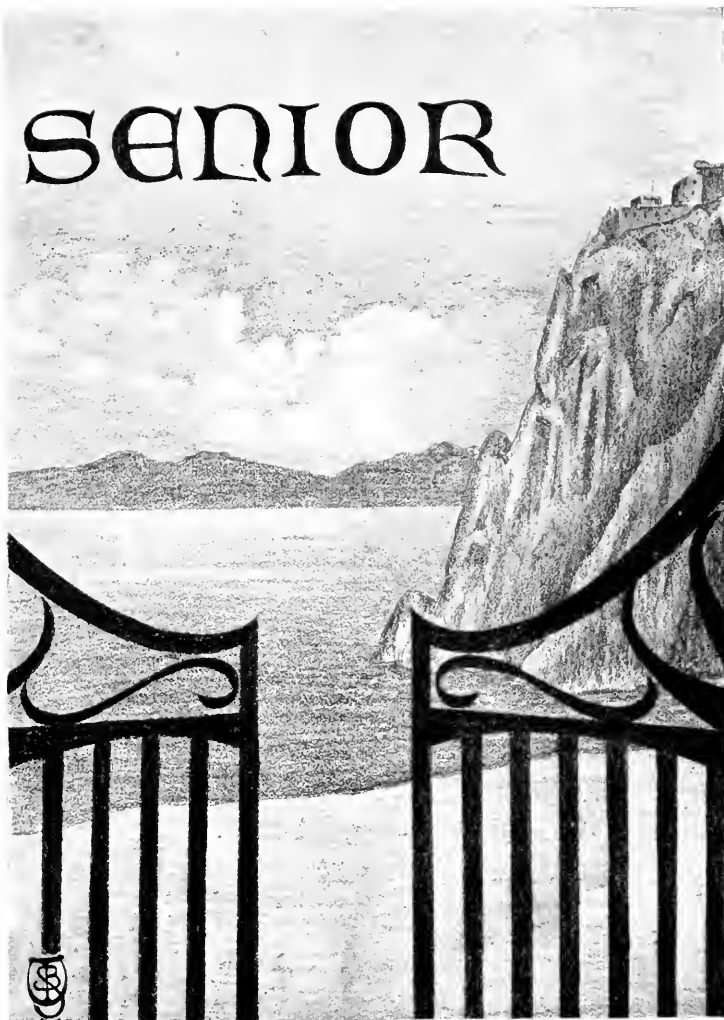

Class '22.

Age, 24; Height, 5' 11"; 140 Lbs.

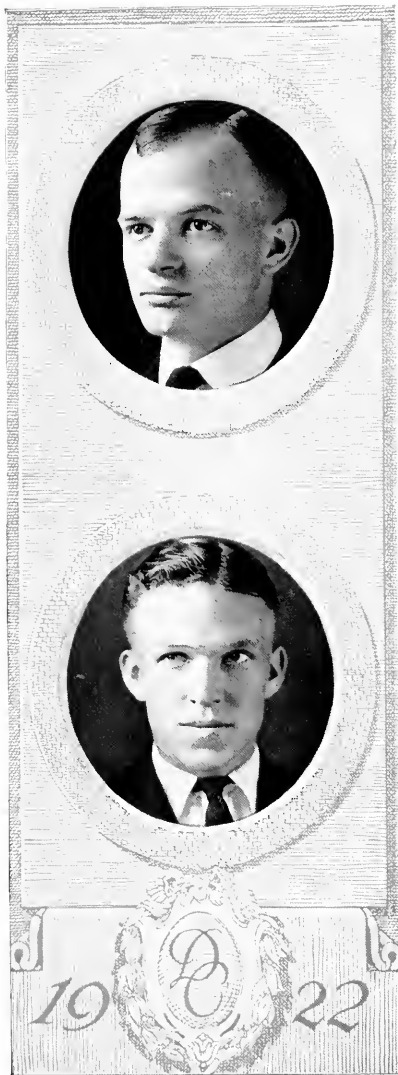

This young gentleman has shown that he possessed quite a discerning mind by coming to Davidson for an M.A., having received his Bachelor's degree at Arkansas College. During his stay among us, he has shown himself possessed of a quiet, pleasant and friendly disposition, a type of man whom one likes to have around. Although his stay at Davidson has been short, it seems to have been intimately worth while, both to him and to the college, and we have no hesitation in sending him out into the world as a man upon whom Davidson has set her seal of approval.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

SENIOR

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1922

JOHN CROOKS BAILEY, JR.

"Stud"

Rock Hill, South Carolina

A.B. 1

Class '22.

Age, 20; Height, 5' 11"; 150 Lbs.

Future profession: Undecided.

Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; Mimir Society; Student Council, '20-'21, '21-'22; Assistant in Latin, '20-'21, '21-'22; Honor Roll, '20-'21; Secretary Eumenean Literary Society; President Eumenean Literary Society, '21-'22; Vice-President Senior Class; Davidsonian Staff, '21-'22; Golden Quill, '21; Junior Rep. '21; Eumenean Literary Society; Editor "Y" Handbook, '22.

"In every gesture dignity."

John is one of the truly big men of the campus. In studies, oratory, and literary pursuits he has no peer. Perhaps the main reason that he has risen to the elysian heights is his all-pervading quality—dependability. He puts his best into all that he undertakes and so is always on the side of the successful. All Davidsonians are glad to have known him.

PHILIP OSBORNE BETHEA

"Oz"

Dillon, South Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Height, 5' 9"; Wt., 165 Lbs.

Future profession: _____

Kappa Sigma; Varsity Football, '20; Wearer of the "D"; "D" Club.

"An upright, downright honest man."

"Oz" is one of the handsomest men of the class. With his natural athletic ability, he has made many Davidson opponents rue the day that they were pitted against him. He always has a happy smile when you meet him and this sunny disposition follows him in everything that he does. Os will make his impression on this little old globe one of these days.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

ROLSTON BUZER

"Duke"

Leland, Mississippi

A. B. 1

Class '22.

Age, 19¹/₂; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 156 Lbs.

Future profession: Missionary.

Leader Volunteer Band; President Reporters' Club; "Y" Cabinet, '20-'21, '21-'22; Polity Club; Quips and Cranks Staff, '19-'20, '20-'21, '21-'22; First Lieutenant R. O. T. C. and Map Drawing Instructor; Fresh Soph Debater's Medal; Junior-Senior Debater; Intercollegiate Debating Team, '20-'21; Class Historian, '20-'21; Wearer of the Golden Quill; Debating Council; Glee Club, '19-'20; Scrib Football, '19-'20, '20-'21; Class Football.

*"The sweetest cordial we receive at last.
Is conscience of our virtuous actions past."*

This young lad, possessed by the spirits of Clay and Webster, has taken a leading part in the literary activities of the "Seminary." His logical speech and forceful presentation have forced his ardent followers to many times remark, after he had taken his seat, "That is the best thing he ever did." Rolston is respected and liked by every man on the campus, and when he travels across the "briny deep" to take up his life work among the heathen - well, look out Heathen!

ROBERT LAWSON BLACK

"Slink"

Davidson, North Carolina

B.S.

Age, 23; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 160 Lbs.

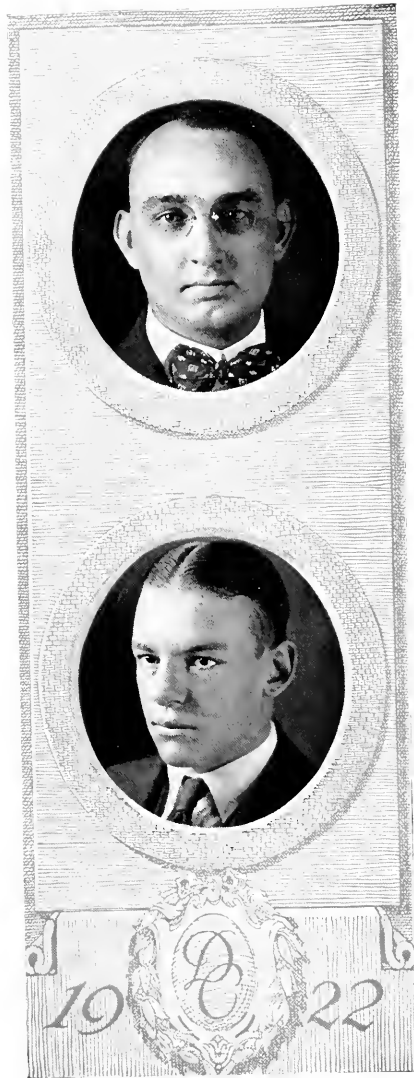

Kappa Sigma.

This athletic youth has for some mysterious reason received the nickname of "Slink." He has undoubtedly done much for his class by aiding in every known form of athletics. But this is not his sole accomplishment, for his dashing manner and renowned good looks have given him quite a headway with that species of humanity commonly referred to as the weaker sex. May he leave us with fond memories of his Alma Mater.

19 22

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

WILLIS ROBERTS BOOTH

"General"

Birmingham, Alabama

A.B. 1

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 210 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

International Relationship Club; Corporal in Band, '19-'20, '21; R. O. T. C., Second Lieutenant, '20-'21; Reporters' Club, '19-'20; Masonic Club; Alabama Club; Ministerial Band.

"This is some fellow."

Big Booth of the Big Bass Horn fame has been a mainstay on the College Band for the past few years. Having very few to rival him in size, he has been given undisputed ownership of our biggest horn, but not only in so weighty a matter as that does he excel, for rumors come of great speeches and overcrowded churches during his holidays. We predict a second Henry Ward Beecher in this man.

ROBERT MARION BRICE

Marion Junction, Alabama

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 8"; Wt., 175 Lbs.

Future profession: Engineering.

Assistant in Physics; Class Football and Baseball; Varsity Football, '21; Wearer of the "D"; "D" Club.

"Earth holds no other like to thee."

Brice came to us from Alabama, and he don't mind admitting it. His four years have been productive of a "D" in the gentle art of chasing the pigskin, and also a proficiency in swatting the little white pill down the fair-way, that rivals the skill of Chick Evans. Whatever his life work may be, if he keeps striving as he has for the last four years on the gridiron, nothing but success will attend his efforts.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

CHARLES GRADY BROWN

"C. G."

Charlotte, North Carolina

A.B.

Class '22.

Age, 24; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 160 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

Philanthropic Literary Society; Supervisor of Junior Society; Ministerial Band; Class Basketball, '17, '18 and '20; Class Baseball, '17, '18 and '20; Varsity Baseball, '21; "D" Club; Wearer of the "D."

"I've learned to judge men by their own deeds."

Brown rarely frequents the haunts of the campus loafers, but on the baseball diamond—he is a satellite of the first class. For conscientious hard work Grady is the stuff in whatever he does. We are blessed with few choice souls such as this one. Watch Grady knock a home run through the innings of life.

JOSEPH FITZHUGH CLARK

"Rifle Rest"

Clarkton, North Carolina

A.B.

Class '22.

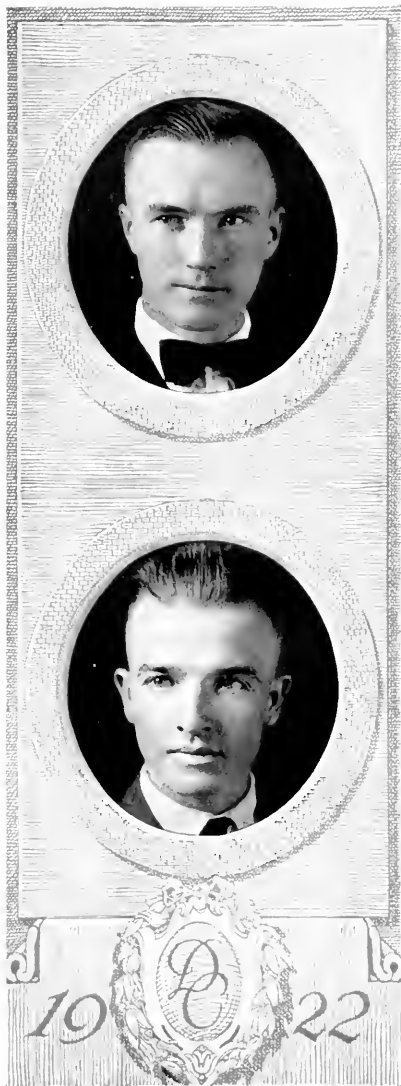

Age, 24; Ht., 5' 5½"; Wt., 127 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

Ministerial Band; Philanthropic Literary Society; Second Critic Phi Society; Alternate in Fresh-Soph Debate, '19-'20; Alternate in Intercollegiate Preliminaries, '20-'21; Sergeant R. O. T. C., '19-'20; Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C., '20-'21, '21-'22; Marshall, Phi Society, '21-'22; President Phi Society.

"O happy if ye knew your happy state."

Rifle Rest got his name and reputation established during his S. A. T. C. His happy disposition has always given him access to whatever he desired and we have all been proud to have been class-mates of his. He possesses the happy faculty of always coming out on top, and so we have little fear that he will make his mark in the world.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

THOMAS BENJAMIN CLYBURN, JR.
"Sergeant"

Kershaw, South Carolina
B.S.

Class, '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 7½"; Wt., 153 Lbs.
Future profession: Cotton Broker.

Sergeant S. A. T. C., '18; Sergeant
R. O. T. C., '19; South Carolina Club;
Wildcat Minstrels; Masonic Club; Dramatic Club, '20-'21, '21-'22.

"Pause if you like, but try to keep your breath;

Look like a man, but don't be worked to death."

Breaking the precedent of his native townsman, this prodigy of Kershaw is a clog dancer of no mean repute. Veri-tably, the Barracks tremble under his massive heel. Yet, his ability to execute this artistic dance is merely a gentle zephyr as compared to his future—to which we sanction him as being numbered among those who have achieved the art of life—success.

We wish for this man that aggressiveness and perseverance that constitutes an inspiring example to those who follow after him.

GEORGE HENRY CORNELSON, JR.
"Slick"

New Orleans, Louisiana
A.B. II

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 6' 2"; Wt., 168 Lbs.

Future profession: Cotton Manufacturer.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sigma Upsilon;
Pan-Hellenic Council; Manager St. Cecilia Club; Vice-President Freshman Class; President Sophomore Class; Assistant Manager Basketball, '20-'21;
Manager Basketball, '21-'22; Student Council, '19, '20, '21, '22; College Magazine Staff; Assistant Business Manager
Magazine, '20-'21; Class Basketball;
Louisiana Club; Emmeuean Literary Society, '18-'19.

"There is always room for a man of power."

Here we have the mixture of a Beau
Brummel and a Scott. This immaculately dressed young man possesses a business head which marks him above the general run of men. His literary achievements are no less noteworthy.
Beloved by all, Slick will add many friends to his now o'erflowing list wherever he goes.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

WILLIAM EARL CRANE

"Bill"

Yazoo City, Mississippi

A. B. II

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 10¹/₂"; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Future profession: Foreign Missionary.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Volunteer Band; Glee Club, '19-'20; "Y" Quartet.

"Great men, like heaven, are pleas'd in doing good."

This thoroughly occidental looking young man calls Mississippi his home. He entered Davidson after taking some work at S. P. L., and has been a most welcome member of our class. Bill is a leader in the religious work of the hill and has shown exceptional ability in many ways. A man of his calibre should be a great power for good on the foreign field.

CHARLES EDWARD CUNNINGHAM

"Deacon"

Decatur, Georgia

Class '22.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 7"; Wt., 135 Lbs.

Future profession: Medical Missionary.

Bachelor's Club; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Vice-President Y. M. C. A.; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '20-'21, '21-'22; Wearer of the "D"; Manager Tennis Team, '20-'21, '21-'22; Captain Tennis Team, '20-'21; Secretary Eumenean Literary Society; Assistant in Chemistry, '20-'21; Vice-President of Class '20-'21.

"Amid all life's quests

There seems, but worthy one--to do men good."

Ed certainly believes in the old maxim—"Store thy mind with knowledge, and keep thyself busy while doing it." In the midst of his many and varied duties he finds time to frolic around on the clay courts and is an ardent follower of Tilden. "Deacon" has decided that Medicine is the only thing for him to study after he collects his sheepskin here, and we predict he will be a "cuttin' up" surgeon.

1922

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

JOHN SHAW CURRY

"Mule"

Quincy, Florida

B.S.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 150 Lbs.
Future Profession: Business.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa; Polity Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Student Council; Quips and Cranks Staff; Davidsonian Staff; Dramatic Club; Secretary and Treasurer, Junior Class; Assistant Business Manager Davidsonian, '20-'21; Class Baseball, '20-'21; Wildcat Minstrels; Audit Board.

"Men of humor are always in some degree men of power."

Johnnie seems to have the knack of getting all the fun possible out of life. At almost any time he can be seen wearing his optimistic smile and chasing the "old grouch" with a wealth of good jokes. He hails from the State famed for its oranges and winter resorts. To those who know him Johnnie has proven himself a true friend and one to be prized.

ROBERT RICHARD DEAVER, JR.

"Bob"

Perry, Florida

Class '22.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 145 Lbs.
Omicron Delta Kappa; Mimir; Honor Roll, '19-'20, '20-'21; Punctuality Roll, '19-'20; Le Cercle Francais; Polity Club.

"Hath thy toil o'er books consumed the mid-night oil?"

Stud is a man of few words but great action. When he first came to college, he settled down to his books and then suddenly burst forth into the limelight when his name appeared on the roll of honor. It has been there ever since. Bob has found time to make a host of friends on the campus. If you have a problem to solve, take it to Stud.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

JOHN HUGH DEW

Alachua, Florida

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 23; Wt., 140 Lbs.

*"I love tranquil solitude and such soci-ty
As is quiet, and wise, and good."*

Johnny Hoo Doo hails from Florida and yet he still seems to have a warm spot in his heart for Red Springs. We wonder why? He is very quiet and is rarely seen on the campus except on the way to class or figuring out some Applied Math problem. When he leaves us he will no doubt teach the Gators some trig and star gazing. We have all learned to thoroughly believe in Johnny.

MARCUS CECIL DEW

"Doo"

Raeford, North Carolina

A.B., II.

Class '22.

Age, 19; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 135 Lbs.

Future Profession: Engineering.

Sigma Pi Sigma; Assistant to Librarian, '21; Assistant in Physics, '21-'22; Engineers Club; Assistants Club; Bible Class Leader; Annual Art Department; Metrophilian Literary Society; Dramatic Club.

"My counsel is my shield."

Marcus is one of the most quiet and reserved of our members. He has succeeded in getting by his courses with comparative ease and takes the coveted sheepskin with four hard years in the background. We are betting that he will be mayor of Raeford by 1925.

1922

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

MARSHALL WELLINGTON DOGGETT, JR.
Crawfordville, Georgia
B.S.

Class '22.
Age, 20; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 153 Lbs.
Future Profession: Chemist.
Chemistry Assistant, '20-'21; Applied Mathematics Assistant, '21-'22; Reporters' Club, '19-, '19-'20; Georgia Club; Volunteer Band.

*"And wisely tell what hour o' the day
The clock does strike by Algebra."*

A genuine regret will be felt by the under classmen of the domicile of Davidson when this offspring of Georgia leaves us to pursue the task of earning a livelihood. However, we trust that this task has not been diminished in his futile attempts to master the art of a musician in coaxing sonorous tones from a violin.

A man that is quiet and unobtrusive,
but he always satisfies his requirements.
He is as dependable and regular as an eight-day clock.

MALCOLM RAY DOUBLES
"Twice"
Richmond, Virginia
B.S.

Class '22.
Age, 21; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 150 Lbs.
Future Profession: Chemistry.
Bachelor's Club; Sigma Upsilon; G.
S. E.; Delta Pi Kappa; Le Cercle
Francais; Das Deutches Verein; David-sonian Athletic Editor and Circulation Manager; Quips and Cranks Board (2 Years Athletic Editor); Lieutenant R.
O. T. C.; Golf Team; Class Basketball
(4 Years); Scrub Basketball.

"I value science—none can prize it more."

The above is a likeness of an all-around man. Not only does he drop 'em through the hoop on the basketball floor with neatness and dispatch, but also slings a "nasty" bass in the campus quarters heard howling at 2 P. M.
Wherever he goes pep is always infected. During his four years he has searched unceasingly for the missing atom.
If he pursues his life work of Chemistry as diligently and effectively as he has his studies and other campus activities we guarantee he will land on top of the pile.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

WILLIAM BENJAMIN DUNLAP

"Ben"

Rock Hill, South Carolina

A. B. H.

Class '22.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 140 Lbs.

Future profession: Banker.

Beta Theta Pi; Vigilance Committee, '19-'20; Class Football; Eumenean Literary Society.

"The mildest manners with the bravest mind."

Here is Ben, the auburn-haired son of Apollo, who has been a leader in the social activities on the campus during the last four years. He is possessed of traits which bring the honor and respect of men and the love and adoration of the fairer sex. Ben has the inherent good nature and general smile which make him welcome wherever he goes.

LUTHER LATIMER ERWIN

"Luke"

Honea Path, South Carolina

ELECTIVE.

Class '22.

Age 22; Ht., 5' 9".

Bachelor's Club; Varsity Track Team; "D" Club; Wearer of the "D"; Class Basketball; Class Baseball.

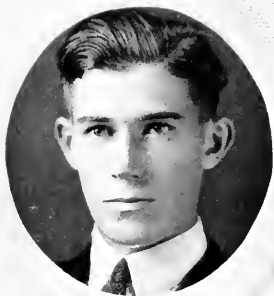

*"And when a lady's in the case,
You know all other things give place."*

Luke McLuke is a "Sugar Foot" from Honea Path, S. C. He likes the women and from all indications and observations they go wild 'bout him. Luke performs on the gridiron, basketball court, diamond, and cinder path with equal ability. He is fast as a greased spark and can talk at the same speed. Withal, he can be characterized by just these two words: Good Fellow.

1922

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

LELAND ADAMS WOOTEN

"L. A."

Statesville, North Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 6'; Wt., 160 Lbs.

Philanthropic Literary Society; Assistant in Chemistry.

"Few things are impossible to diligence and skill."

In this tall youth we find an admirable mixture of the two fields of Arts and Sciences. With his avowed purpose of becoming a minister, he nevertheless excels in Chemistry to the extent of being one of the valued assistants in that difficult science. The Church has need for such men as the Professor.

THOMAS ARCHIBALD FREEMAN

"Archie"

Charlotte, North Carolina

A.B. II.

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Phi Society; Class Basketball, '20-'21; Class Baseball, '19-'20; Varsity Baseball, '21; Wearer of the "D"; Executive Committee of Athletic Association; Glee Club, '19-'20; Band, '20-'21.

*"Far may we search before we find
A heart so manly or so kind."*

Archie never toots his own horn except in the band. Notwithstanding his modesty, he is one who has helped '22 in her basketball and baseball victories. He was also a star fielder on the Varsity team. Quiet and reserved as he is, he is one of our greatest assets and we look with confidence on his future.

1922

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

JOHN WOODSON GROVES

"?"

Kosciusko, Mississippi

A.B. I.

Class '22.

Age 19; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 145 Lbs.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Assistant in Mathematics; Assistant in Greek.

"Large was his bounty and his soul sincere."

Johnny bears a thoughtful and dignified mien. He has the distinction of being champion chess player of the class, in fact he has had little opposition in that exalted sphere. Never boisterous or self-assertive, he has won a host of friends. It is a real pleasure to know fellows like Johnny for they come so few and far between.

BROWN McCALLUM HAMER

"Happy"

Hamer, South Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Kappa Sigma; Scrub Football (three years); Class Football; Assistant in Economics.

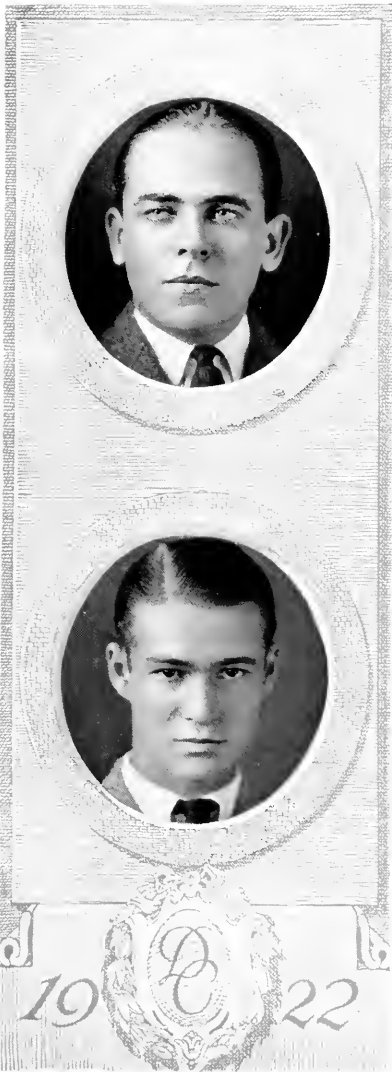

*"His corn and cattle were his only care,
And his supreme delight a country fair."*

He is our only member who is so distinguished as to have a town named for him, or to be named for a town, as the case may be. He studies occasionally, boafs well and plays well; is rather reticent, smokes a good smelling brand of "ropes," and rides most of the time in his gasoline buggy. He has done his duty well here and reaped as big a harvest as any.

1922

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

FORREST JARRELL WRIGHT

"Soc"

Winston-Salem, North Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age 21.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Morpheus Club.

"I heard him complain, 'You have waked me too soon, I must slumber again!'"

Soc, the Jazz Hound, is the gentleman now under discussion. When not in Charlotte, he may be found in his room getting his blessed rest by keeping Morpheus company. His flashy ties and loud tweeds are not his only companions for everyone on the campus knows and likes him. He shot a professor one day but later found out that he had entered the Fresh class. Watch out Winston-Salem when Soc enters your business portals.

ROBERT WAIDE HOLMES

"Bob"

Lexington, North Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age 19; Ht., 5' 8"; Wt., 130 Lbs.

Beta Theta Pi; Band, '20; Philanthropic Literary Society, '18-'19; Assistant to Registrar, '18-'19, '19-'20.

"The glass of fashion."

Bob will always show you what is in vogue in New York for a fault in dress is unknown to him. He is a genial good friend of everybody's for no one could dislike this senior member of the Gold Dust Twins. From the snake oil on his hair to the shine on his shoes, Bob is the perfect gentleman. He holds the capabilities of great things in that small body of his.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

LEIGHTON THORNWELL HORTON

Lancaster, South Carolina

AB. II.

Class '22.

Ht., 5' 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; Wt., 155 Lbs.

Assistant in Library; R. O. T. C. Lieutenant; South Carolina Club.

"Could I love less I should be happier."

This son of the Palmetto State is an ardent follower of the Terpsichorean Art. Not only in the light fantastic does he shine forth but he has an uncommon knack in getting the ladies to fall for him. Being an erstwhile student of the renowned Beauty no doubt accounts for this. May all of this young man's life be as happy and carefree as his college days have been.

EDGAR ELMER HOUGHTON

"Ed"

Birmingham, Alabama

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; Wt., 158 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

Eumenean Literary Society; Secretary Eu Society, '20-'21; Fresh Soph Declaimers' Medal; Representative Fresh-Soph Debate; Manager Debating Council; Le Cercle Francais; Secretary Le Cercle Francais, '21-'22; Sophomore Class Poet; Class Basketball, '19-'20, '21-'22; Pandemic Literary Society, '22.

"He whose law is reason; who depends upon that law as on his best of friends."

Truly one of the wonders of the class. This young gentleman deserves this tribute since he is taking the regular course in three years and this cannot but call forth admiration. He has won distinction in debating circles by his splendid oratory. We are glad that '23 could give us such a man to graduate with us.

the road

You will note the distinguished name and no less a distinguished man holds it in this case. Corp is known by everyone who has entered Davidson since 1918 and they are all proud of the acquaintance. His timely witticisms and jokes are always relished and have gained for him a host of admirers. Just watch Corp when he enters that greatest training school of all.

"The truly generous is the truly wise."

Paul has a precision and nicety about him which are all his own. Polite, courteous and solicitous at all times, he is liked by all who really know him. The Queen City and Davidson are proud to call him son for we believe that he will always reflect credit on anything to which he is connected.

In this man we find the absolute hermit of the class. He studies hard and seems to get the best of his professors when it comes to recitations. He is never seen on the campus except going and coming from classes but we hope that some day he will discard his cover of reserve and show us the truly great qualities within.

All must be earnest in a world like ours."*

"J. Rat" is a representative of the mountain-fastness of Lenoir, noted for its moonshine and good-looking girls. He is hard working and conscientious and as men come to know him better his circle of friends increases. Rat is a noble exponent of Taurus and backs his philosophy with the wisdom and experience he has labored so hard to acquire during the last quartet of years.

John is a man of statistics and can tell you every play in Davidson football during the past three years. It could very readily be supposed that he will be transportation genius from the regularity with which he meets the trains. He is a quiet yet congenial boy whom everyone regards as a friend. We are looking for him to take up his business with the same accuracy with which he shoots horseshoes. Keith will fill the bill.

"As merry as the day is long."

Walter is one of the prodigies of '22. One of the most versatile of all of Davidson's sons, he is at home on the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet as well as the dance floor. Well liked wherever he goes, people seek his acquaintance for they know that in him they will find a true friend. He is largely responsible for this book. Best o' luck, Walter.

"The combined qualities of a man and a great athlete."

"Doc", the pilot of the 1921 squadron, has had an exceptionally bright college career. He has always played the game squarely and hard no matter what department he is in. The great confidence which every Davidson man places in him was shown by his choice as captain of "the greatest little team on earth" for the past year. We feel sure that he will acquit himself in the same glorious manner when he goes into the business world.

*"What sweet delight a quiet life

Sec is one of our A. E. F. boys who came back to the Alma Mater after the thrills of artillery bombardments on the front. He settled down and faced his college duties in the same determined way that he faced the Boches and has made as great a success as in the latter case. In the summers he can be seen around Raleigh. Perhaps he has his eye on the governorship of the State; we believe some day he will get it.

Bill came from the Citadel and entered the class of '22 in his junior year. Just watch him on the gridiron if you want to see some real pep. If anything is going on on the campus you can expect to find Bill in the midst of it all. Just watch his smiling countenance and you will be glad to have known him. The Bulldogs were the losers in this deal and '22 is glad to call him her own.

Bishop is known all over the hill as a thinking man. His grave and dignified exterior show little of the warmth within. With a steady hand he has lead the student body and his class through some of the greatest years of Davidson history. Bishop has proven himself a leader here—we expect him to set the pace after graduation.

Here is '22's baby in statue but giant in intellect. Mac can vie with Dalton in his knowledge of Chemistry, and a glance below shows him likewise efficient in all his other work.

*"He lately acquired a snake oil mien,

To this son of the Cracker State we eagerly look for future distinctions, and we wager he will not keep us waiting long.

*"Contentment gives a crown
Where fortune hath denied it."*

"Haw," Waxhaw, or "bee haw," or what not, this gentleman duly graced Davidson with his presence. Walkup has been a hard student, and will work as hard as the next one. He is usually, or better unusually, quiet. Scrupulousness, a trait well deserved by him.

We trust he shall fill his calling exceptionally well and wish for him a copious supply of zealotness in the pursuance thereof.

"A man to all the country dear."

His renowned ability as a punter has been related elsewhere. "Rooster" is a name that will linger long in the memory of his classmates. Possessing admirable personality coupled with an intense desire to become a friend of all makes him a man—a gentleman of whom Davidson may justly be proud to call her own.

Whatever his future may be we trust that it may have in store for him that impetuosity that links man to the bonds of leadership.

*"Soprano, basso, even the contralto.
Wishes him five fathoms under the realto."*

McGeachy could well be called a base fellow in one respect for no one has been able to fathom the depths to which he can control his voice. The best that the Glee Club has produced in the past few years, he is also a manager of no mean repute. The baseball schedule which he planned and carried out with such evidences of superior ability is one of the greatest feathers in his cap. When he receives his commission in Uncle Sam's army, he will have closed a most enviable college career.

Enter the orator of note. He has represented the college on debates several times and is a most finished speaker. In all of the forensic exercises he always shines. A good boy. He has formed many friendships on the hill. We believe that he will either be a powerful preacher or a silvery-tongued orator of the Senate when he leaves college.

Good in either a bull fest or on the baseball diamond, Frank is a very good representative of '22.

"As full of spirit as the month of May."

T. F., the original skeleton (in the Dramatic Club) is one of those choice souls from the Valley of Virginia—a place which carries a silent recommendation wherever one goes. Vocationally speaking, he has decided to do anything from the harmonious organist to the sterner tasks of the minister and doctor. Henry is one of the more pompous members of the class. Having at one time been a hero on the gridiron, he has now settled down to the easier tasks of the campus. As a slinger of Taurus, Henry has few equals, and in the words of the Scotch ballad: "He dearly loved the ladies, O." P. D. excels in forensic exercises. The deep, sonorous tones of this Georgian's voice have swayed audiences and literally made history in the literary societies. Truthful, square and just in all of his dealings, we all have great confidence in anything that Pat is connected with. In life's saddest moments, look up Pat Maller, for he holds the panacea for all your ailments. Good luck, Pat.

O. T. C., Finance Officer, Second and First Lieutenant, '19, '20, Battalion Adjutant, '20, '21, Cadet Major, '21, '22; H. A. J. A.

"Soldier armed with resolution."

Jimmy came from the mountain country of West Virginia to dip into the spring of knowledge of Davidson. In his four years he has developed into a military genius of no mean calibre. Not only on the crowns of victory has the "Major" shown his greatest qualities, but he has manifested unusual determination by his commendable performances on the athletic field. He has the qualities of leadership and will no doubt make a great man in the parade of life.

HENRY RUFUS POOLE

Mocksville, North Carolina

B. S.

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 170 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

Philanthropic Literary Society.

"The world has not yet learned the riches of frugality."

A man may be on the Davidson campus for his four years before he can tell the two Pooles apart. It was a kind trick of providence that we have two such fellows in our midst instead of one. H. R. is a physicist of some local repute, and a quiet, good boy.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

ROBERT HOWARD POOLE

"Puel"

Mocksville, North Carolina
B.S.

Class '22.

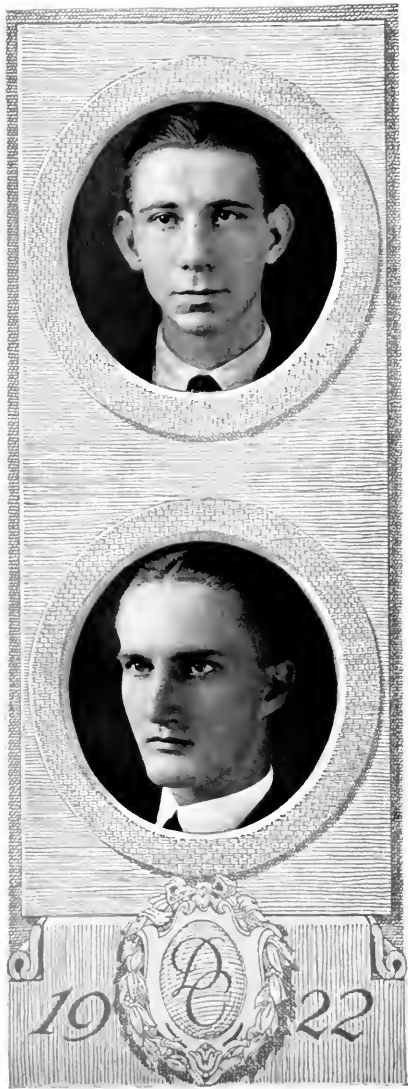

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 170 Lbs.

Future profession: Physicist.

Sigma Pi Sigma; Salesman's Club,
Aesculapian Club.

"Thou art noble."

As one of the charter members of the Sigma Pi Sigma Physical Fraternity, we can readily see in which course this young man's mind runs. Tall and large of frame, he has greatly limited his activities and has taken comparatively little interest in athletics. Poole has an easy manner and a searching mind which will carry him far in his post-college days.

JOHN KAUFFMAN PRICE

"J. K."

Alexandria, Louisiana

Class '22.

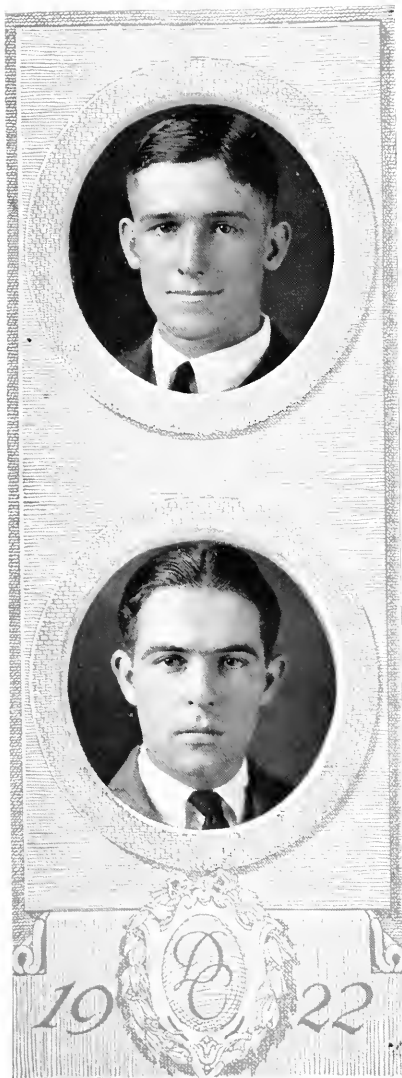

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Kappa Sigma; Sigma Pi Sigma;
Punctuality Roll, '18-'19; Monitor, '20-'21; Physics Assistant, '21-'22; Assistant Manager Football, '20; Manager Football, '21; Executive Committee Athletic Association; Wearer of the "D".

*"He could distinguish and divide
A hair 'twix south and southwest side."*

If you want information about physics or finance ask J. K. He is not only good in his books but has made a great success as a football manager. His neatness and businesslike air will carry him far on the road to success and he may now set out with confidence in the attainment of his goal.

JULIAN PLEASANTS PRICE

"Junebug"

A. B. II, M. A.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 8½"; Wt., 160 Lbs.

Omicron Delta Kappa; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; Patriarchs; Tublitsky Club; Eumenean Literary Society; President Freshman Class; Vice-President Student Body; Student Council, '19-'22; Secretary Y. O. T. C.

"Good actions crown themselves with lasting days,

If ho deserves well needs not another's praise."

Three years ago when 128 fresh and green objects huddled together to select our first class leader, "J. P." was the man called upon to fill the position. His being President of the "Y" shows his true Christian character; the honor roll, his brightness; basketball, his athletic ability; and Vice-President of the Student Body, his all-round qualities. The Class of '22 can boast of no better man than "J. P.," nor one of which she is more proud.

WILLIAM LEE RAMSEUR

"Bill"

Kings Mountain, North Carolina
Elective

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Future profession: Medicine.
Kappa Sigma; German Coach.

"An affable and courteous gentleman."

Bill hails from the near-by city of Kings Mountain. His name is not a new one in the college directory, for many bearing it have been to Davidson and made distinguished records. Bill bids fair to excel them all. Handsome, and suave in manner, he will pluck the honors from the hand of North Carolina when he takes up his life work.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

ROBERT McDOWELL REID
"McD"

Gastonia, North Carolina
B.S.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 7"; Wt., 140 Lbs.

Three years ago Reid broke from his Gastonia home and blessed Davidson with his presence. He was destined to make his stay with us very short for by hard work and a brilliant mind, he has succeeded in making his B.S. in three years. He leaves our portals this year, but will not soon be forgotten by his friends who hope that D. C. will always hold a cozy corner in his heart.

JAMES McDOWELL RICHARDS

"Thou art to us a volume full of wisdom."

Mac is one of the truly great men in the Class of '22. He has shown a winning determination on the football field but has achieved his greatest success as Editor-in-Chief of the Davidsonian. Possessing one of the brightest minds in the class, nothing but great things can be predicted of Mac.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

CHARLES WILSON ROBINSON

"Bugs"

Derita, North Carolina

A.B.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 148 Lbs.

Future profession:

Phi Society; Glee Club, '20-21; '21-22; Golf Club; Dramatic Club; President Zip Eaters Association.

"Man is the only creature endowed with the power of laughter."

"Bugs," the great exponent of the clog dance and guitar, comes to us from the city of Derita. Not a few nights have the inmates of Georgia denied the saying that "music hath charms to soothe the troubled breast" when they heard the Midnight Revue conducted by Bugs. Aside from his musical talent, he is a good student and worker. That famous smile will surely win for him when it comes to the final showdown.

CHARLES B'WOLKARTE SANDERS

"Tex"

Orange, Texas

A.B. I

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt. 165 Lbs.

Future profession: Medicine.

Enmanean Literary Society; Western Club; Aesculapean Club; Biology Assistant, '21-'22; Waiters' Union.

"I feel within me

A peace above all earthly dignities,

A still and quiet conscience."

Sanders, the Texas lad, quietly dropped into the class of '22 and from its beginning has been a staunch supporter of all of its measures of reform. Sanders is quiet, unobtrusive, and has made his room the prettiest and most desirable place on the campus. Flowers are always blooming in the window boxes, and all of the tasteful furniture is always in perfect order. What ill could dwell in such surroundings?

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

JOHN RICHARDSON SCHENCK

"Jonnie"

Greensboro, North Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 160 Lbs.

Kappa Sigma; President "D" Club; Football, '20, '21; Basketball, '21.

Coming to us from Clemson, Jonnie has proven himself a true son of Davidson. On the football gridiron and the basketball court, he has been one of those who have made the name of Davidson to be synonymous with clean fighting spirit. In the realm of football he has earned for himself lasting fame, having won all-state at right end. A man of strong personality and gentlemanly conduct, we predict for him a successful career in the game of life if he displays the same drive and perseverance which have made him famous as a Davidson Wildcat.

RODERICK KIRKPATRICK SHAW, JR.

"Rod"

Quincy, Florida

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 135 Lbs.

Future profession: Farming.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sigma Upsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; Polity Club; Editor-in-Chief Quips and Cranks, '22; Quips and Cranks Staff, '21; Class Baseball; Assistant in Physics, '21; Assistant in English, '22; Wildcat Minstrels; Dramatic Club.

"An author! 'Tis a venerable name!"

Rod is the man on whose shoulders the success of this book largely depended. As a writer, editor, and humorist, he has few equals. Quick at repartee, and sensible and reasoning in all things, Rod has a host of friends. We believe that he will excel the works of Luther Burbank on his Florida farm when he leaves his Alma Mater.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

FRED WATSON SMITH

"Gypsy"

Mooresville, North Carolina

A.B. II

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 7"; Wt., 136 Lbs.

Future profession: Business.

Philanthropic Literary Society.

"Happiness consists in the constitution of the habits."

Fred lives off the campus and so we are not able to see as much of him as we would like to. When we do see him he always has a bright smile of greeting and a happy word to say. He holds a store of very wry wit in his make-up and it is not difficult to get him to tell some of it. Fred is going to force a wide path through life with the help of that winning smile.

JAMES SPRUNT, JR.

"Jimmie"

Charleston, South Carolina

A.B.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 5' 8½"; Wt., 145 Lbs.

Beta Theta Pi; Sigma Upsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; Mirmirs; Eumenean Literary Society; Student Council, '19-'20, '21-'22; Secretary and Treasurer Student Body, '19-'20; Varsity Track, '19-'20; Wearer of the "D"; Secretary and Treasurer "D" Club, '19-'20; Art Staff, Quips and Cranks, '19-'20, '21-'22; Davidsonian Staff, '21-'22; Magazine Staff, '21-'22; Quips and Cranks Staff, '21-'22; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '21-'22; Manager Track Team, '21-'22; Executive Committee Athletic Association, '21-'22.

"In him all generous virtues blend."

Jimmie is locally noted for his ability to bring the forces of the moon into decisive play. This bundle of dynamic "pep" has been largely felt by the Class of '22 in many ways. His fleet and winged bipeds have often brought him honor on the track. A scholar of the first rank; an energetic worker in all campus activities and a worthy friend of any Davidson man.

SAMUEL DAVIES STORY

"Hunkie"

Marion, North Carolina
B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 21.

Delta Theta Chi; Section Hand; Cheer Leader; Brown's Mule Club; Rumble Orchestra; Virginia Reelers; Wearer of the "D"; Second Lieutenant, R. O. T. C., '20-'21; First Lieutenant, R. O. T. C., '21-'22.

"When all thy mountains clap their hands in joy,

And all thy cataracts thunder

"That's the boy!"

It is said that when this prodigy was but a child he had a voice like a trumpet. We feel confident that it has grown ever since. "The best cheer leader that Davidson ever had" is the title that he bears and well deserves it. He is always backing the old Red and Black Machine to the last. From now on the Class of '22 will listen for the "Song of Marion's men." Don't keep us waiting, Sam.

AUGUSTUS CLEVELAND SUMMERS

"Gus"

Marion Junction, Alabama
A.B. II

Class '22.

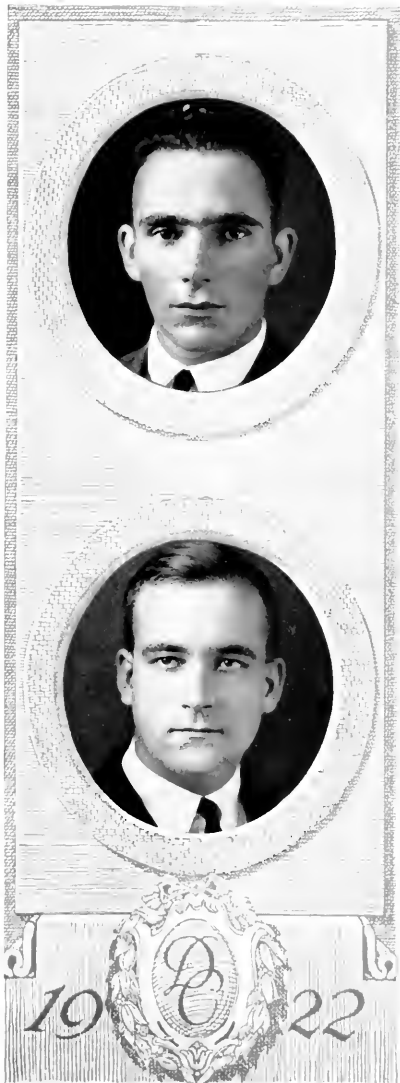

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 9"; Wt., 165 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

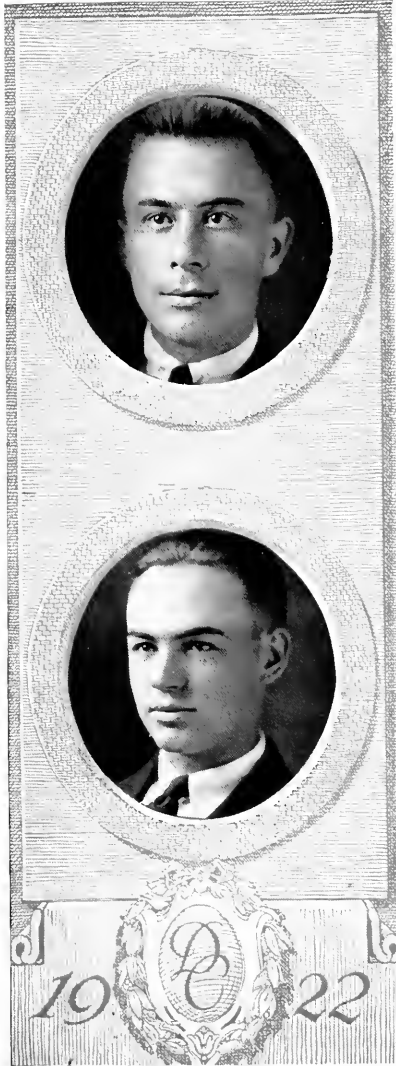

Eumenean Literary Society; Le Cercle Francais; Polity Club; Alumni Editor Davidsonian; Associate Editor Davidson College Magazine; Vigilance Committee; Student Council; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Scrub Football; Captain Class Football Team; Assistant in Bible; Monitor; First Lieutenant, R. O. T. C.; Marshal, Eumenean Literary Society; President Polity Club; President Camp Knox Club.

"I am a Christian, faithful man.

"Gus" is one of the most familiar and beloved members of '22. A look at his honors will show to what extent he has entered into every activity on the campus. He is faithful and conscientious in everything that he undertakes. By his successes in the International Relations Club it would seem that he is admirably fitted to enter the circles of international law and finance. He has chosen the ministry and should have a huge congregation wherever he goes.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

LINDSAY ARNOLD TAYLOR

"Tink"

Salisbury, North Carolina

A. B. 1

Class '22.

Age, 25; Ht., 5' 7"; Wt., 148 Lbs.

Future profession: Ministry.

President A. E. F. Club; President Rowan County Club; Vice-President International Relations Club; First Critic Metrophilian Literary Society; Intercollegiate Debater; Senior Orator; Davidsonian Staff; Ministerial Band.

"I mean the man, who when the distant poor Need help, denies them nothing but his name."

The kindly smile of Tink has become one of the glories of the campus. Taylor served in the A. E. F. and so was unable to graduate with his class, but in this respect '22 is the gainer. By his kindness to all and his ability as a speaker, Tink is destined to become a minister in whose congregation any Davidsonian man will be proud to find himself.

CALVIN FULLER TEAGUE

"Grandma"

Laurens, South Carolina

B. S.

Class '22.

Age, 20; Ht., 5' 11"; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

"Cheerful, pleasant, happy and content."

Tubby is one of that remarkable group who hail from the city of Laurens. Spick and span in dress, light and debonaire in mien, quiet in speech and actions, would serve as a sentence sketch of Tubby. From a natural leader in social functions he can become the learned seer by the mere donning of his specs. He has been a real asset to the class and we all like him.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

EDGAR HALL TUFTS

"Banner"

Banner Elk, North Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Future profession:

Reporters' Club, '19-'20; Monitor, '19-'20, '20-'21; Bell Ringer, '20-'21, '21-'22; Y. M. C. A. Board of Control, '21-'22; Sergeant, R. O. T. C., '19-'20; Second Lieutenant, R. O. T. C., '20-'21; First Lieutenant, R. O. T. C., '21-'22.

"Tolls the knell of parting day."

This is the man who keeps the absence committee functioning. At first a tollor of the aged college bell and now the manager of that tin-pail whistle, he controls and dictates the standard of time of Davidson. That he should be so trusted through his punctual habits is a very commendable point in his favor. Edgar is efficient in all departments—an honest-to-goodness man.

LOUIS LEE WILKINSON

"Chink"

Soochow, China

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 23; Ht., 5' 11½"; Wt., 163 Lbs.

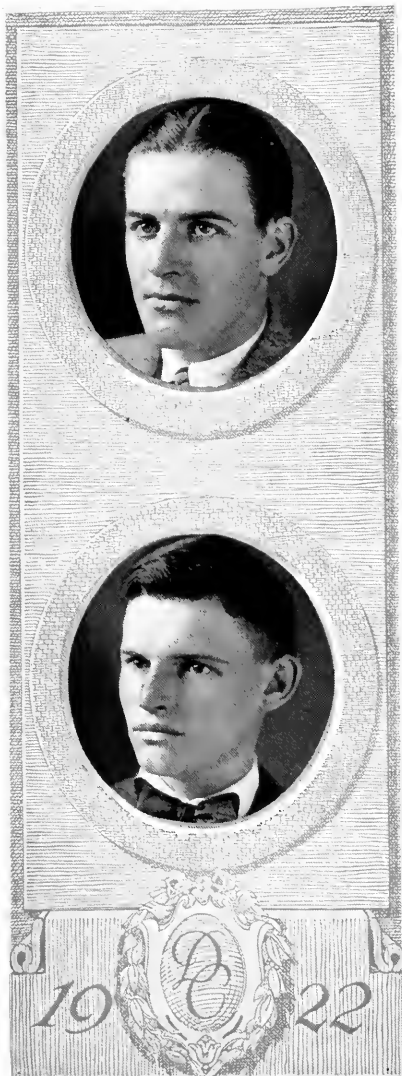

Future profession: M. D.

Student Volunteer; Tennis Team.

"Trust me, you'll find a heart of truth within that rough outside."

"Chink" is one of the mainstays of the third floor Watts. He has shown rare form on the dance floor of that emporium on several occasions but that is merely a side issue with this young man. The Orient as well as the Occident are well known places to this travelled youth. Some day he hopes to return to his former home in the Eastern Hemisphere.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

HORACE COLON WILLIAMSON

"Country"

Florence, South Carolina

B.S.

Class '22.

Age, 21; Ht., 6'; Wt., 150 Lbs.

Pi Kappa Alpha.

"The Chesterfield of today."

Horace is a jazz hound of the first water. When in doubt about the nicer proprieties of life, just ask the tall handsome young man who is at all times in the most proper dress. An acknowledged leader in the social activities of the campus, Horace has much of sterling qualities in his makeup. We should do well to copy this fellow in many ways.

JAMES CRAIG WOOL

"J. C."

Charlotte, North Carolina

A.B.

Class '22.

Ht., 5' 10"; Wt., 140 lbs.

Philanthropic Literary Society, Treasurer, '20-'21; Assistant Manager Davidsonian, '20-'21; Business Manager, '21-'22; Circulation Manager, '21; Reporters' Club, '20-'21.

"To myself alone do I owe my fame."

The mantle of Ponzi must have fallen on the shoulders of this young man, if we may judge by his success as the Business Manager of the Davidsonian. His quiet spirit of optimism has helped him overcome almost unsurmountable difficulties which weaker men would not have attempted. If he enters the arena of life with the same determination, nothing should prevent him from repeating his college successes in the world at large.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

MALCOLM MCMURTRY ERWIN

"Mac"

Honea Path, South Carolina

A. B. II

Class '22.

Age, '20; Ht., 5' 7"; Wt., 140 Lbs.

Bachelors' Club; Eumenean Literary Society; Class Basketball, 1919; Class Baseball, '19; Manager Junior Basketball Team, '20; Scrub Football, '20; Class Baseball, '20; Scrub Baseball, '20; Junior Orator's Rep. '20.

"Or at some banker's desk, like many more,

Content to tell that two and two make four."

This man is to preside over the destinies of Honea Path in her coming era of development. As an athlete and student Malcolm has shone among us. He has a great capacity for work, in fact, he is a machine which has succeeded in reducing life to a minutely calculated succession of actions, and always succeeds in performing his appointed actions on the schedule dot.

The fact that he is beloved by all of his fellow students only strengthens the cord that binds him to Davidson, and we hate to give him up.

BYRON S. HANRAHAN

"Harry"

Kinston, North Carolina

A. B. I

Class '22.

Age, 22; Ht., 5' 6"; Wt., 126 Lbs.

Future profession: Business.

"Men of few words are the best men."

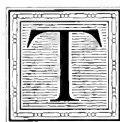

A pensive, subtle lad is he. Nothing more aptly characterizes him than by the phrase, "He kept the even tenor of his way." No, he doesn't sing tenor, but clogs it. In this wonder we have a clog dancer equalled by no one save the "Florida Blossoms."

In "dipping" him Davidson "dips" one who is conscientious and faithful, and it is with pangs of regret that we see him leave. May he be a living Janus in his labors.

History of Class of 1922

TO write anything like an accurate account of the deeds of our class in the short space allotted for this purpose would be an altogether impossible task. Not that the Class of '22 has accomplished things that no preceding class has; but that until further proof is given, she claims to have been the moulder and builder of things more conspicuous in college life than has been accomplished in the same length of time before.

The cannon were still thundering in France, and Uncle Sam was at the height of his military accomplishments when 128 green-eyed Freshmen descended from the "Jay Bird Special" to begin a new era called College Life. The shirt-tail parades are still as fresh in our memories as their results then were on our bodies. But the fall finally passed amid the scenes of S. A. T. C. warfare, when all agreed the place should be called Camp Davidson and not college. News of the armistice came and a great quiet was ushered in which lasted until the days of home-going and Santa Claus.

Upon our return in the spring we really began our college life, under the following officers: J. P. Price, President; G. Cornelson, Vice-President, and J. M. Richards, Secretary, and with such able leadership we "carried on" till commencement. We put two men on the Honor Roll; snowed the Sophs under in the society contests, and in athletics tied for the baseball championship, and ran a close second in basketball.

The following fall we returned 134 Sophs, it being the only time in the history of the college that a class had more Sophs than Fresh. This year we elected G. H. Cornelson, President; W. G. McKeldin, Vice-President, and C. E. Cunningham, Secretary-Treasurer. We won the basketball championship in the fall and baseball in the spring. Football was called off on account of the second "flu" epidemic which for a time tore the college to pieces. During this year we were instrumental in the formation of the Reporters' Club of the Davidsonian, which has labored untiringly ever since.

In the Spring we chose T. M. Lowry, C. E. Cunningham, and J. S. Curry, as President, Vice-President, and Secretary, respectively, to guide us as Juniors. We counted our numbers the following Fall and found that 96 of our numbers still remained. Again we won the basketball and football championships, put three men on the debating teams and won both the inter-society contests. This year cannot be passed over without some mention of the famous Speaking which was by all acclaimed easily the biggest and best ever held, both from a literary and social standpoint.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

And now we have come to our last year, from which we can look far behind with fond memories, but only a short distance ahead before we leave such loved associations and environment. This year with McGukin as President, Bailey, Vice-President, and Story, Secretary, we feel that we have made the climb with some degree of success.

At this time we have 86 Seniors, or 20 more than have ever received their degrees from Davidson in a single year. But quantity is not the biggest asset of old '22. During the year five of our sons have made names on the coveted Roll of Honor of the college. In athletics we have already won out in football and were a close second in basketball, with baseball yet to be played. To her sons have been awarded 14 of the coveted D's. But this history, as all things, must come to a close lest the reader term this a eulogy instead of a history of facts. Only some of the material accomplishments and good deeds have been enumerated, for we would prefer that many things be kept from the readers of Quips and Cranks lest they term '22 a failure.

But one word to every loved son of the class: May it be our resolution and determination, individually and collectively, to strive ever in after life to add new laurels to the many already laid at the sacred shrine of learning—our Alma Mater—Davidson College.

Senior Class Poem

1922

To College and to Class

Hail, Davidson! Our Alma Mater glorious,
Thine e'er resplendent banner stands unfurled
And leads thy men to greater deeds. Victorious
We stand united as we face the world.

Hail men! The storms and blustry winds are blowing
And every man must face the sterner weather,
Yet ever from the carefree past come glowing Memories of our college days together.

A Short History of the Class of 1923

THE SPIRIT

The faculty made '21,
 And then they blushed at what they'd done;
 They sowed good seed on '22,
 Though weeds and "bushes" only grew;
 And '24 made Baxter think;
 At last they've found the missing link;
 But when they tried class '23
 They found us worthy of old D. C.

—H. K. R.

CHAPTER I

1. THE BEGINNING.—As indeed the philosopher has observed all things must have a beginning. Able and conscientious men have labored long and diligently to determine the beginnings of things—of trees, of birds, of men, of policies, of religions. By labor, of whose length and diligence you are free to speculate, it was determined that The Class had its beginnings in a certain city, village or hamlet when a certain person was born. Beyond that point reliable information was unobtainable.

All authorities (Note 1) (Note to be placed at bottom of page—To this statement there is one exception: Mr. J. P. Price in his "My Four Years at Davidson," New York, 1835, asserts that when he graduated from Davidson in 1922 that The Class was still wearing, or at least should still have been wearing the garments in question) consulted agree that The Class discarded knee pants about 1916 and likewise all agreed that, individually and collectively, The Class fell in love about 1917. No other events of transcendent importance occurred until the second day of September, 1919, when the several hundred units of The Class first saw Chambers, of hallowed memory, and passing through the portals of The Library, emerged—The Class of 1923.

2. ADMINISTRATION OF F. M. CASSELL.—In many respects this is the most important administration of all. Woolfolk, Sloan and other noted authorities agree with the author that the nights of the second and the third are indelibly stamped on—well I wouldn't say the feet—of every member of The Class.

Baldwin, in his "Annals of North Chambers," states that E. T. Elliott, speaking on "The Whichness of That," held all Third Floor North Chambers speechless for the unparalleled space of two minutes ten seconds. Sloan (for the correctness of which the author can vouch), asserts, that upholding the negative, Leroy P. Burney triumphed over Edward Fewell in their justly celebrated debate on the question, "Which is the Butt End of a Billy Goat."

In that exceedingly rare volume "Four Years in Watts," Dr. J. T. Spillman mentions having seen W. A. Gamble wrestle with Temptation for full three minutes, the while he stood atop a table in 4 Watts. It is further recorded by the same authority that R. P. (Sporty) Alexander, traveling over that once celebrated course that led from Sprunt Field to the Southern Cotton Oil Co.'s plant, did hopelessly outdistance the far-famed "Hack" Murray.

During the latter part of Cassell's administration, in the spring of 1920, the first "Fresh" caps seen on "The Hill" were wished on The Class by the self-satisfied sophomores.

But amidst trials and tribulations, which were seemingly legion, The Class found time for much constructive work. Two sons of '23 made varsity football and two varsity track, while five made the baseball team. None was deemed worthy of the basketball team but tradition says that they surely did compose the scrubs. As soon as it understood what "college" really meant The Class buckled down to real work with the intention of doing something worthwhile. The record says that it succeeded—in the classroom, in the literary society halls, in all the varied phases of college life.

3. ADMINISTRATION OF NORMAN SHEPARD.—In the spring of 1920 The Class elected Norman W. Shepard, of Wilmington, N. C., to lead it through the ensuing collegiate year. With confidence in itself The Class approached the most critical year of its history.

The "Fresh" were duly inducted into all the mysteries of college life—painlessly in public, perhaps not so in private. Notwithstanding the efforts of many to (practically) abolish that time-honored institution, the Sophomore Banquet was held. While The Class feasted '22 did the dirty work, and lo, there was much moaning and gnashing of teeth! But later '22 treated itself to a smoker and joy reigned supreme within the breast of The Class.

The end of the football season found four men of '23 who could wear the football "D." Basketball added one more son of the old class to the ranks of the "D" and likewise tennis and track. Of course some fell by the way—some for this reason and some for that—and so The Class decreased in size. But it was a survival of the fittest and those who were left set themselves to the task of making a name for old '23 with that spirit that never says fail. What did they do? To enumerate would be weary—sufficeth the answer, "Much well done."

4. ADMINISTRATION OF SAMUEL DAVIS.—In the spring of '21, in solemn conclave assembled, The Class elected Samuel M. Davis, of St. Paul's, N. C., to lead it through its third year. That year The Class worked hard on the gridiron but none additional of her sons were deemed worthy of the varsity. On basketball court her luck was better for one more of her number earned his letter.

Here the record must stop, and await Time and yet another hand for the finishing. But when the record is complete it will be that '23 was never unfaithful to her ideals, her high purpose, herself, her Alma Mater or her Maker.

W. J. COOPER.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

Many are the Juniors' blessings,
 Legion are their winning ways ;
Girls declare they shun discretion,
 In the balmy Spring-time days.

On the gridiron they are mighty,
 Gig and Sam'l do them proud—
 A. E. F. Sorrells is valient,
 Nearly always draws a crowd.

Captain Patrick makes their baskets,
 And on first base does his bit ;
Warhoss Mauze and the others,
 Seldom fail to make a hit.

Literary and forensic,
 Are the sons of '23 ;
Military? Why ask questions?
 Only must we look and see.

But in one way she has failed us :
 Glad we are it proved no worse ;
As her poet has not functioned,
 We must read this rotten verse.

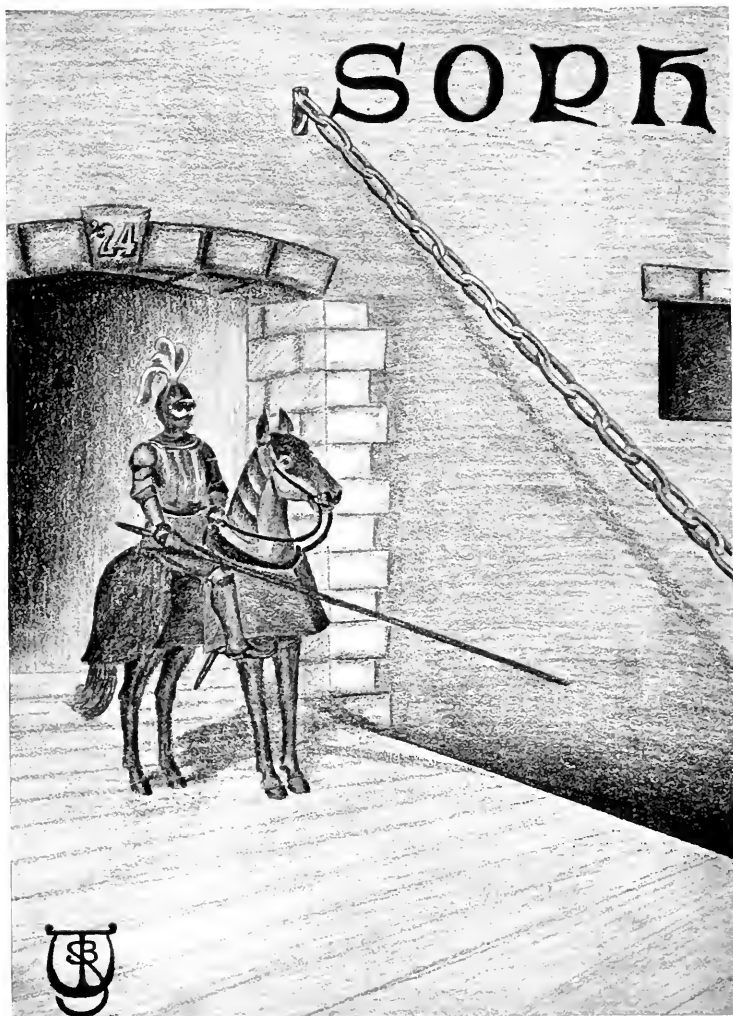

Chambers

Built in 1859, first used for classes on January 6, 1860, this stately edifice was a model of college architecture during and after the war.

Burned early on the morning of November 28, 1921, all left of this old landmark is its thick walls and four stone columns. With it went many of the old memories of Davidson and the loss was one hard for the college to bear.

Infinite labor and patience were required in its building as the closest railway to it, in the 50's, was twenty miles away and materials had to be brought by wagon from that distance. The lesson of that achievement will inspire the Davidson of the future to redoubled efforts and who can say that the destruction of Old Chambers will not prove a blessing to the school. Already we have two new dormitories under construction and within a few years, it is most probable that the loss will be requited by a rebuilt Chambers, better in every particular than the old one and from this new center of the campus will spring a Greater Davidson.

Sophomore Class History

EARLY in September, 1920, we came to Davidson, 180 of us, the largest class in the history of the College. Our first thought upon alighting from our Pullman was "Where is Davidson?" but this question was soon to be answered in a very thorough and convincing manner.

Kind-hearted upper classmen led us to the Library, where after having gone through the brain-racking process of recording everything that had happened to us from our nativity, we were officially slaughtered. (The P. O. did a rushing business that night, selling 180 stamps, and mailing an equal number of appeals for aid).

Then we set out to see Davidson, for was not this the place which we had been looking forward to for months and even years? Was it not the Alma Mater of our fathers—the college where they had crammed and passed and ignobly flunked? We had heard the praises of old Davidson sung beside our cradles; we had heard old Chambers hallowed with tales from childhood. It was then that we received the shock of our lives. We found the "modern" dormitories crumbling with age and there was no halo around Chambers. But nevertheless we liked the place, and after a few unpleasant interviews with bygone Freshmen and a letter from home and Her, we settled down to a life of peace and repose.

We were an unusual class and eager to please, so we promptly fell in with custom and wore Fresh caps furnished us by Ponzi for a moderate sum. Also to please the Sophomores we kept our seats after chapel until that august body had departed.

One of the most important events of our first year was the election of class officers. When the smoke had cleared away we found M. D. Field, President; A. M. Hillhouse, Vice-President; G. R. Dupuy, Secretary; O. J. Allison, Historian; and D. B. Walthall, Poet.

The Class of '24 has already made an enviable record in athletics. In our Freshman year six men made their letter: Faison and Moore, in football; Davis, in basketball; Hunter, in baseball, and Gallaway and McBryde, in track. A good start has been made this year as we had five of our number win coveted positions on the Varsity football team: Faison, Moore, Clarke, Davis, and Field.

Twenty-four has also distinguished herself in literary achievements, for J. I. Smith, of Greenville, S. C., and R. R. Jones, of El Paso, Tex., made the Honor Roll in their Freshman year. Ten of our number have made the Reporters' Club of THE DAVIDSONIAN and a few of the bolder hearts have even ventured to aspire to the pages of THE DAVIDSON COLLEGE MAGAZINE.

With a record such as this behind, what shall we do during the remainder of our college career? There're great things in store for the Class of '24. Far be it from us to rest on our laurels but rather let us be like Alexander the Great, desirous of new worlds to conquer. Twenty-four will leave a name on the pages of Davidson history, but class spirit has far from blinded us to the promotion of a better Davidson. That mysterious, indescribable thing called Davidson Spirit was at first an unknown quantity to us, but now it has become an all-important factor in our college lives. May '24 go down in history as a class whose motto was "A Bigger and a Better Davidson."

Since this epistle was written old Chambers has been destroyed by fire. We learned many things during the following week, but the chiefest of these was the love which we felt for the old homestead of Davidson. We are standing solid behind the faculty in their endeavor to make the best of things and all the members of '24 are filled with the desire and purpose to "Carry On."

W. Z. BRADFORD.

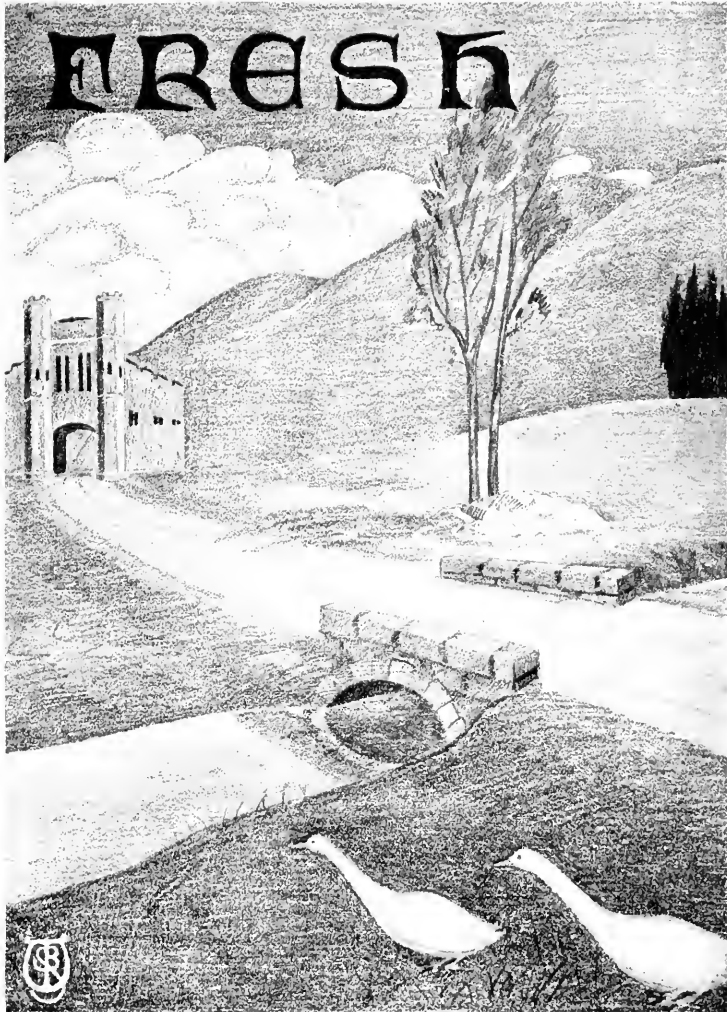

Musings of '24

One more year has passed behind us,
 One of progress toward our goal,
 Still our errors yet remind us
 We need lifting of the soul.
 Less of self and more of service
 May our future actions show,
 More of honest, purest striving
 As throughout our lives we go.

May we catch a worthy vision,
 That of service to mankind,
 By the light of love unselfish
 May our actions be designed
 So when'er we meet a problem
 Out on life's tempestuous sea,
 May we solve it, leave it conquered,
 Guided by this vision be.

For the world is dark and dreary,
 Evil dims the path of life,
 Sometimes errors seem to flourish,
 Seem to conquer in the strife.
 Twenty-four armed by this vision
 Let us fit ourselves to fight,
 And by noblest aspirations
 Pierce the dark with beams of light.

D. BARCLAY WALTHALL.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

History of the Class of '25

ON September 7 and 8, 1921, there were to be seen pouring onto the Davidson campus specimens of every variety— tall, short, fat, slim, green, greener, handsome and otherwise, who were to make up the Class of '25. We were straightway ushered to the office of Mr. F. L. Jackson, where we were relieved of all that wealth which we had so proudly carried from home. Then it was that we realized our dream of being college men—Freshmen, 'tis true, but college men withal.

The next item on the program was the donning of our nifty Fresh caps, and we were then able to distinguish our classmates from upper classmen, and to use the most convenient head apparel that we had ever possessed.

Every Dixie State was represented in our class, as well as Japan and China. Members of the faculty have stated that ours is the best prepared class which has ever come to Davidson. Our enrollment also has set a new record for the college, at one time reaching two hundred and four in number.

But our pride along these lines was soon dispelled and we found out from experience (a dear teacher) that we had much yet to learn, and to unlearn as well. One parade was held in our honor, and many were the tales of woe that night, but we soon forgot these in the joys of Christmas and exams (?).

"Athletically speaking," our class has contributed much to the college. Football season found many out for places in the ranks, and although no Freshmen made letters, three made the Varsity squad and several others showed up well among the Scrubs. In basketball, four out of the eight to make the trips have been Freshmen. Baseball and track have yet their secrets to unfold, but it is expected that much good material will be picked from our class for these sports.

The Freshman Class is also well represented in all the clubs and societies on the hill, the literary societies claiming about sixty of our number. Only one of our number has made a place on the coveted honor roll, but others have come perilously close to it.

At a class meeting shortly after Christmas, the following officers were elected: Hendrix, President; Pleasants, Vice-President; Millhous, Secretary and Treasurer.

One sad event has come to our class in the death of Ralph Lancaster, but we have pride in saying that while he was with us, "This was a man."

Our college days being yet young, our strength lies, not in our past, but in our hopes and ideals for the future. Who can blame us for hoping that if there were some muse in our midst, he would sing of statesmen, preachers, doctors, lawyers, men of service, heroes of the future.

The first lap of our four-year course is run;

Let's onward strive until the race be won.

We'll build our future education

On what we've laid, a sure foundation,

For verily our work has just begun.

One hundred plus three score and ten are we,

All true and loyal sons of old D. C.

We've passed, we've flunked, we've stuck together

Thru rain and snow and pleasant weather,

And pals and comrades we shall always be.

The true and valued friendships forming here

Will bind our lives and hearts in bonds most dear;

They're friendship ties that last forever

And bonds that Time shall never sever,

But only forge the firmer year by year.

So forward, Twenty-five, with firm intent

Ne'er from our noble purpose to relent;

But while pursuing higher knowledge,

On our initial year at college

We'll look back, happily, as time well spent.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~ 1922

FOOTBALL

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

D. L. LA FAR

Captain and Guard

D.

A huge share of the glory for the successful season must be given to Captain "Doc" LaFar, the fighting linesman who is acknowledged to be the peer of all guards in the State. "Doc" is one of the "Come on follow me" type of leader and has proved to be an invincible tower of strength. Big and aggressive, he is a fearful guard, forming an impregnable barrier on the defense and opening great gapping holes on the offense.

J. S. MOORE

Captain-Elect and Halfback

D*

The Tom Thumb of Southern football circles did everything and did it to a Queen's taste. "Spratt" was a wizard in an open field and past master in the art of dragging down passes and a terror to everyone whom he faced. Although light of weight and frail of build, he has never been laid out nor has he fumbled. On the defense he was in every play proving to be the most adept man in the State at breaking up forward passes.

J. A. SCHENCK

Quarterback

D*

Filling the double duties of end and quarterback was the task assigned to Johnnie by Coach Grey last fall, and he certainly proved himself to be equal to the task. At quarter he was the equal of any quarter in the State. His excellent direction and scientific strategy in his plays was evident in every game. As an offensive end he had no equal. He was a hard tackler, a quick diagnostian of plays, a brilliant receiver of passes—in a word, an ideal end.

R. M. BRICE

Guard

D

After three years of hard work, Brice has finally been rewarded for his labors by being awarded the coveted letter. Although handicapped by injuries, his playing was of the highest order. His low, smashing drives made him a tower of strength and many of the opponents' plays came to grief due to his work. He was a fit running mate for Davis, and the two did some of the most brilliant work of the season.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

J. M. McFADEN

Halfback

D*

"Rooster," that bundle of nerves and fight, put another gilt edge preformance this year. His accurate passing was one of the big factors in many of the Wildcat gains, and made him a terror against every team he played. His educated toe also helped out on several occasions, his twisting spirals sailing far down the field. The defensive play of this hard-working lad also showed great improvement, and despite a bad knee, he was generally in the midst of things.

S. M. DAVIS

Tackle

D

Sam is one of the most reliable defensive linemen that ever smashed a tackle play or broke up an end run. He has had plenty of experience, is powerfully constructed, and is full of that old Wildcat fighting spirit. More and more his ability as a great all-around is becoming recognized. Injuries kept this aggressive player out of several games and his presence was greatly missed.

G. B. SORRELLS

Tackle

D

"Bascomb" is another man whose great work has at last won recognition. He could be used anywhere in the forward line, but his home was at the tackle station where he proved to be a tower of strength. He was a quick, low charger, and smeared many a play before it could gain momentum. His great physical strength was very valuable to him and with a little more experience he would develop into All-State material.

W. S. SHEPHERD

Fullback

D*

"Gig," the hardest worker on the team, was in the game fighting for every inch every minute of the fray. With his powerful build he could plunge through most any line and was seldom stopped without some gain. While he is not phenomenally fast, he picked his way into openings that few human eyes could detect, much to the discomfort of the opposition. He did sterling work throughout the season, running interference, and in backing up the line on the defense he was almost invincible.

QUIPS AND CRANKS -1922

E. S. FAISON

End

D*

We don't believe a better defensive end has been developed in the State than Faison. His cleated tracks shown with brilliancy, his great work has won the admiration of all gridiron circles, and even his opponents are loud in their praise for him. Seldom did an end run around him for a gain, while, his brilliant work brought many plays to grief. He is an alert, seasoned player, and has developed an adeptness in receiving forward passes. With two years to go, he has a remarkable career in front of him.

C. M. DAVIS

End

D

"Nappy," a backfield man, was shifted to end this year, and after he got his bearings, he ran wild on the Wildcat's right flank. His wonderful work in the last few games proved to be one of the outstanding features. Davis seemed to have inherited some of Pitt Douglas' ability in dragging down passes, and at several times the oval flew into his hands like a homing pigeon. Another of his strong points was his ability to cut down a man when running interference.

M. D. FIELD

Center

D

"Mason" stepped into the place vacated by Sam Brady and filled it to perfection. His passing rivaled that of his predecessor in quickness and accuracy, making him a most valuable man on the offense. Playing out of the line of the defense, he had a knack of sensing just where a play was going before it got under way. He was very reliable in this his first year on the team, and he gives promise of developing into a great linesman.

C. M. CLARK

Tackle

D

Clark was the heavy weight of the team and played a consistent game throughout the season. He, in combination with LaFar and Faison presented a side of the line that was impossible to break. Montague developed into a good offensive man, often taking his man for a ride. His sensational return of a kickoff to mid-field in the N. C. State game, was indeed a brilliant piece of work on the part of this big tackle.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

J. K. PRICE

Manager

D

In Price, the team had a most efficient manager. "J. K." was always on the job, and gave the college a representative season, allowing the students to see a majority of the games by his cleverly planned schedule. He gave the team some splendid trips enabling them to meet some of the best elevens in the South. His efforts as manager are beyond criticism, and he deserves no little credit for the capable manner in which he handled the season.

Football Chronicle

DAVIDSON may well be proud of her fighting Wildcat eleven, the team which outplayed both State and Carolina; and came through a strenuous schedule with three victories, four defeats and three hard fought ties. Although more games were lost than won, the Red and Black machine ran up a total of 165 points against their opponents 153.

The team went to Charlottesville for the opening game of the season opposing the University of Virginia. The Old Dominion lads had a veteran team and were expecting a soft game to start on. At the end of an hour's play they succeeded in rolling up only 28 points on the Wildcats.

The next week, the Presbyterian College of South Carolina invaded the Wildcat den and were beaten by a 7 to 0 score. The lads from the Palmetto State put up a hard game but were a little overshadowed by the fast work of the Red and Black machine which had gotten down to smooth working order.

The next stop was Atlanta, where the Tornado swamped the badly crippled Wildcats. The old Davidson spirit was shown there, however, and even though snowed under, the team held Tech on the one-yard line for downs toward the end of the game.

Wake Forest picked a fortunate time, and proceeded to romp off with a win over the locals. It was the first time in the history of the two colleges. Five Wildcat regulars were out of the game and were badly missed to say the least.

With the blood of revenge in their eyes, the clan got together and proceeded to roll up a total of 87 points again Wofford. The game proved to be more or less a runaway affair and the team seemed to have at last struck its stride.

Staging a wonderful comeback of the dream variety in the last three minutes of play, the team forward-passed six times in succession for a touchdown, which resulted in tying up a game with the University of Richmond. The final score of 14 all.

N. C. State's eleven came to Charlotte for her annual contest, big favorites to win, but could after the game consider themselves fortunate to get away with a 3 to 3 tie. Everyone who saw the game admitted that Davidson out-fought and outplayed the Raleigh lads and deserved to win.

The University of North Carolina was Wildcat meat. The papers describe the 0 to 0 deadlock, one of the hardest fought games ever played in Winston.

QUIPS AND CRANKS -1922

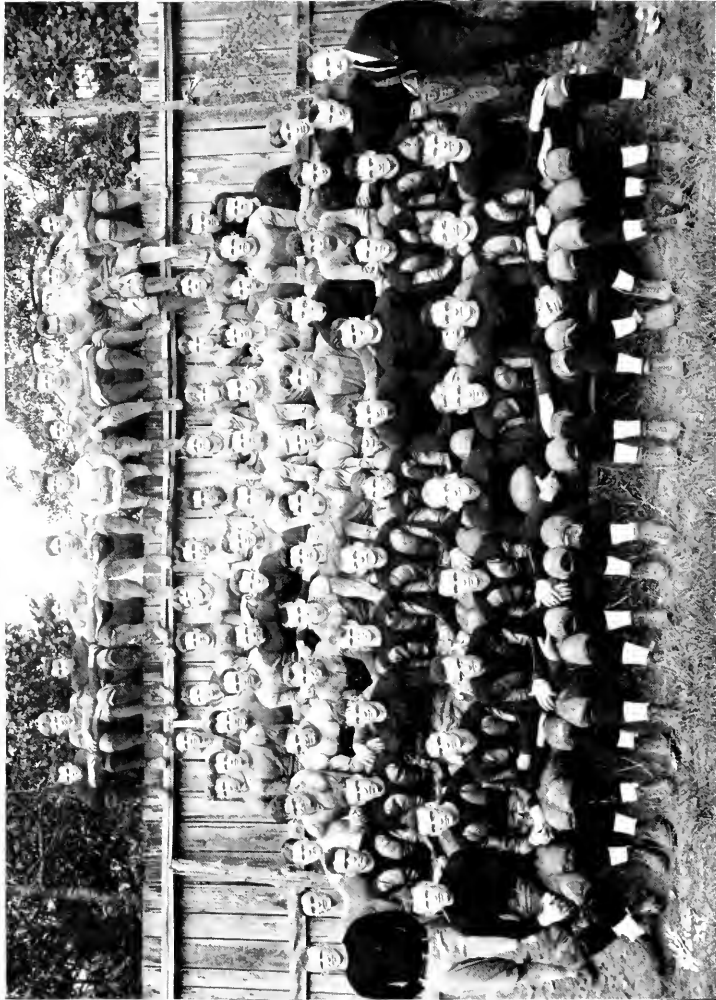

The contest was filled with thrills, the ball going from one end of the field to the other. The Prince Albert Special carried many of the Student Body to the game.

Elon was next on the schedule and proved to be easy meat. The final score was 47 to 0. The scrubs played most of the game, putting up a snappy brand of old gridiron game. The visitors fought hard but were outclassed from the start.

The Furman game proved to be an anti-climax, to an otherwise successful season. The players had been working hard since August and many seemed to go stale in this crucial game. The trip in the morning had its bad effects and although the Wildcat outfit gained considerably more ground than the Hornets, they were unable to check the latter's steady march down the field and lost by a 28 to 0 count.

F. W. HENGEVELD

Coach

D

A star twirler for four years while at Davidson and returning as coach in this branch of sport, has made "Dutch" one of the most popular men on the campus. He is an able coach, and has at all times the respect and support of his team. Combine this excellent coaching with his pleasing personality and you have a coach—par excellence.

J. R. BOULWARE

Manager

D

This lad from the Alligator State handled the baseball season—and handled it in great style. "Jim" brought some of Davidson's most popular opponents on the Hill, and also gave the team some delightful trips. He handled the "cash" in a perfectly satisfactory method and gave the Athletic Association a creditable year. A good manager and well-liked by the whole student body, is—Jim.

W. H. MILEY

Pitcher and Captain

D

"Smiling Bill" has heaved the old apple on Wildcat teams for four years, serving at first in the outfield, but during the last two years as regular twirler. "Bill" has a varied and assorted brand of benders and went fine last year. Besides being a class A twirler, he served in the capacity of Captain and as such, proved to be level-headed and a user of cool judgment.

A. L. CURRIE

Pitcher

D

"Buck," as he is best known on the diamond, has displayed his wares in the box for four years. With a baffling change of pace he has the opposing batsmen at his mercy. Combine this with some of his twisters and you have one of the best Red and Black twirlers in some time. "Buck" served as Captain his third year on the team.

J. E. CASSELL

Third Base

D

"Eris" has covered the hot corner for four years and has proven to be one of the best and most clever handlers of the old pill who ever held down an infield position. Being quick and accurate makes him a terror to the opposing base-runner. Besides this unusual fielding ability, "Vernon" was among the upper circles in batting, having a splendid average throughout his four years on the nine.

QUIPS AND CRANKS -1922

E. E. RATCHFORD

Second Base

D

"Ratch," the midget wonder of the Wildcat clan, covered the midway sack for four years and finished the last season going better than any of those preceding. He was a fast and sure fielder and his batting average during this season was among the select circle. "Ratch" was in the old game from the cry "Play Ball" to the end, and left an enviable record when he graduated.

SIMEON WRENN

Catcher

D*

Coming to Davidson with a splendid record as one of the best A. E. F. baskstops, "Sim" held down that position here for two years in class A fashion. Wrenn could work any of the pitchers on the staff and get the best results, and was one of the best inside men on the squad. With a deadly pegging arm, many a base-runner has been caused to come to grief.

C. R. CRAWFORD

First Base

D*

Without a doubt, "Pat" is one of the most natural ball tossers who ever wore the Alma Mater's colors. Landing an outfield position his first year, this smiling Sumter lad was shifted to the infield this year. He capers around the initial sack in bewildering style and handles himself like a second Hal Chase. He is a natural hitter and wields the willow in great style.

N. W. SHEPARD

Pitcher

D*

"Shep" is one of those followers of the national pastime who plays it the same as eating and sleeping. Putting all brands of benders on the ball comes natural to him and as a twirler he has proven to be a Class A bet for two years. "Shep" has a baffling change of pace and is a much feared moundsman in these parts. He also handles the bludgeon around the 300 mark.

*Died, 1921.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

WM. HODGINS

Short Stop

D

"Molecule" held down the goat's job in fine style. A sure fielder and an accurate thrower made him a very valuable asset to the team. He was a great ground coverer and especially fast on the bases, being one of the best base-runners on the club. He was in the game with plenty of drive from the start and wound the year up with a splendid record.

V. D. JOHNSON

Catcher

D

"Cop" served as catcher and outfielder for three years; he was snappy and quick at either and was a ready man in the pinch. "Cop" kept the spirit of the team up in wonderful shape, and this human chatter-box made things hum all the time. He was no slouch at the bat and his famous Texas Leaguers came at all times.

W. M. FREEMAN

Captain 1922 and Outfield

D

Freeman played his first varsity ball last year, and cut up out in the center pasture. When the old apple came sailing out his way, it was as good as gone, for old Liberty has a pair of hands like glue. This Steel Creek protege was also a reliable hitter, and with another year yet to serve, he ought to go fine again this season.

T. N. HUNTER

Pitcher

D

"T. N." was the only Freshman to land a varsity position. He, however, proved to be the find of the season, and went good in the box. Hunter has a terrible crossfire, which mixed in with his assorted brand of twisters, makes him a pitcher of no mean ability. He was also used in the outfield alternately because of his powerful wing and hitting ability.

BROWN

Outfield

D

Brown served his first year on the team in the right garden. He covered his position in fine style, gathering in everything he got his hands on, and was a sure fielder. He has a marvelous pegging arm and cut off many plays in the infield after a difficult catch. Brown also wielded "Old Betsy" with a neat average, and was one of the clubs most timely hitters.

Baseball Chronicle

THE six letter men back, three of these being pitchers, Coach Hengeveld had to whip practically an entirely new nine into working order, at the beginning of the season. Prospects seemed very blue indeed, and especially when the Freshman class failed to produce much available material.

The season opened at Davidson with two games against the strong Oak Ridge nine. This double-header was split, the first contest going to the Wildcats by a 4 to 2 score, while the visitors copped the second by a 5 to 1 score.

The first collegiate game was played in Winston-Salem, the Wildcats going up against their ancient rivals from Chapel Hill. The game was a hummer throughout until the ninth frame. With the score 3 All, the University lads took a liking to Shepard's benders and slammed out 4 runs, sewing up the contest.

Returning to their own pasture, the Wildcats proceeded to pound out an 11 to 8 victory over Wofford. The game was slow and listless, featured by the slugging of both nines. Journeying over to the Queen City the Red and Black clan fell in defeat before the strong N. C. State nine by a 3 to 0 count.

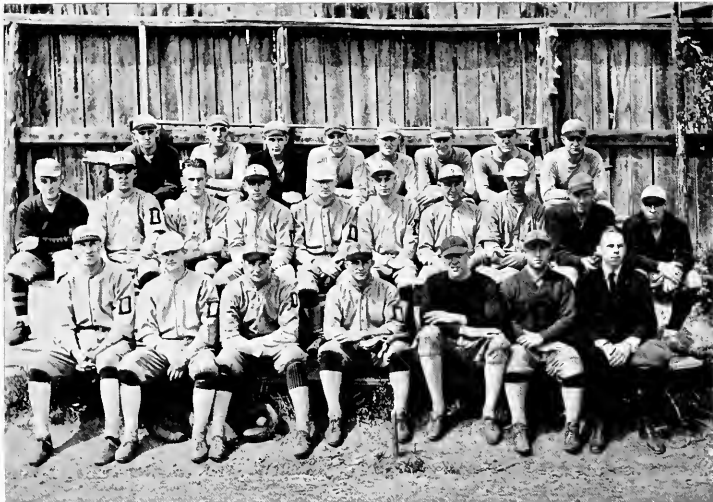

The next week found the Presbyterians on the road. This trip called for a five game schedule in various Carolina colleges. In the first game, the strong Elon aggregation was encountered on their own lot. This game was a hummer, going 11 innings without a decision. The Wildcats overcame a 2-run lead in the ninth and tied things up to a 4 All count which could not be undone. The next game found our worthies up against the White and Blue of the University in Chapel Hill. The ninth inning found the Rah-Rah lads with the long end of a 5 to 4 score. Tying things up in this session, the Wildcats proceeded to pound out a 9 to 5 victory in the 11th. The next day found the team against the Wake Forest clan. Hopping on to Miley's offerings in the early sessions, the Black and Gold piled up a lead which could not be overcome, and came out on the long end of an 8 to 4 score. In the next game the Wildcats ran up against the strong N. C. State nine again. Unable to fathom Murray's slants, the clan went down in defeat for the second time before the engineers, this time by a 7 to 4 count. The last game of the trip went to Wake Forest by a 4 to 2 score, the Baptists making all their counters in the third frame.

QUIPS AND CRANKS -1922

Returning home the Red and Black took on Elon, and in a pitchers' battle between Miley and Barker, the former won by a shade and the locals took the long end of a 2 to 1 score.

The next two games were lost. Journeying over to the tobacco city, the Wildcats dropped a loosely played game to Trinity by a shut-out 4 to 0. Citadel also romped off with a victory, winning over the crew by a 5 to 2 score.

Owing to the fact that this edition goes to press before the present baseball season gets under way, we are of course unable to state much concerning this season. Coach Hengeveld has a task in front of him, to whip a team into shape. With only three letter men back, there is not much of a nucleus to begin on. Crawford will be seen capering around the initial sack again, and Brown and Freeman will hold down outfield positions.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

G. H. CORNELSON

Manager

D

"Slick" has the honor of being the first baseball manager to make a trip pay for itself, in some time. He has handled the shekels in Class A satisfaction, and at the same time has given the Student Body the opportunity of seeing a majority of the games. George has made a popular boss, and has shown rare judgment in the juggling of the filthy lucre.

C. R. CRAWFORD

Guard and Captain

D*

Serving his second year on the quint, "Pat" played a wonderful game this year. As Captain of the team, this Palmetto State lad exercised good judgment and cool-headed work. The team was built around him, and as a floor man, Pat's equal has not been seen in many a moon. All this coupled with his extraordinary shooting ability makes Crawford a basketball star of the first degree. With one more year to serve his Alma Mater, Pat has a wonderful career to wind up before leaving.

G. W. MAUZE

Center

D

This rangy lad from the wilds of West Virginia played a most spectacular game this year. Playing center he had very little difficulty in out-jumping his rivals. In covering the floor, "War-Hoss" seemed to be in every play. Combine these qualities with his accurate and graceful shooting ability, and you have Mauze, one of the best Wildcat basketball stars in recent years. He still has one year to play.

A. C. ORMOND

Forward

D

"A. C." put up a remarkable game at one of the forward positions this year. In spite of his diminutive size, this wiry Wildcat covered his position in Class A style and played a consistent game throughout the season. His greatest asset to the five was probably his ability to pass accurately and he was always in the game fighting from the first whistle. "A. C." graduates this year and his vacancy is going to be hard to fill.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

J. P. PRICE

Guard

D

"June-Bug" covered one of the guard positions this year. Although this was his first varsity experience and thus nothing of the spectacular in his playing, "J. P." could a'ways be counted on to play that old fighting and consistent game. Besides being a strong man on the defense, Price was often seen in the midst of the offense and he was an artist at dribbling. This is his last year on the team.

C. M. DAVIS

Guard

D

"Nappy" was probably the hardest fighting member of the Wildcat squad this year, and he put up a snappy brand of the indoor game. He was on the aggressive and extremely valuable in dribbling the ball out of the enemies territory and down toward his own goal. He proved to be a stalwart guard on the defense, and broke up many an opponent rush. With two years yet to play, "Nappy" will develop into basketball fame.

M. S. BEALE

Forward

D

"Mac" covered a forward position this year, and in spite of his lack of collegiate experience, this Freshman put up a fast brand of ball. Although handicapped by both a lacking in size and weight, he held his own in fine style. "Mac" has a keen eye for the basket and drops them in the hoop with accuracy. With three years more in front of him yet, he should develop into a wonder.

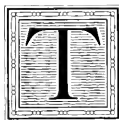

D. F. MALLORY

Forward

D

"Dan" covered a forward position this year. He had a good eye on the basket and found little difficulty in caging the old sphere from any angle. He played an aggressive game and was especially apt in dribbling. Serving his first year on the team, and with three more to go under Coach Hengeveld, he should develop into a star.

Basketball Chronicle

HE recently closed basketball season has been one of the best athletic records a Wildcat team has ever established. The outlook at the beginning of the season seemed exceedingly gloomy. Captain Crawford was the only man back at the opening of the season. "Nappy" Davis, however, soon put in his appearance. With this as a nucleus Coach Hengeveld built up a team that was one of the most feared in the Carolinas.

The team started off with a rush, winning three games in quick succession. The Charlotte "Y" was taken into camp by a 44 to 22 count. Closely following this, the Wildcats proceeded to hop on Wofford and came out on the heavy end of a 30 to 21 score. Then followed one of the hardest games of the season. N. C. State, after several victories, invaded the Wildcat den and proceeded to lead the Red and Black a merry chase. Not until the final whistle was the result known, and that showed the local quint leading by one point, 23 to 22.

The next think on the calendar was the N. C. trip. This called for four games. At Trinity the Wildcats dropped their first contest, losing by a 22 to 18 count after having four men removed from the game for personal fouls, and having 15 fouls called on them. Coming back strong, however, the following night, the clan proceeded to hop on N. C. State on the latter's floor, and walk off with a 25 to 21 victory. The contest was a hot one and not until a final sprint did the game go to our worthies. Journeying over to Wake Forest, the Crimson and Ebony machine stepped on the throttle and added another scalp to the string, trimming the Baptists by a 29 to 27 count. The following evening, however, proved too much for the five and they went down in defeat before the fast Elon five by the narrow margin of 4 points. The Christians won out in a fast and furious contest by a 34 to 30 count.

Returning home and journeying over to the Queen City, the Wildcats proceeded to take sweet revenge on Trinity, and ran away with a 32 to 27 victory from the Methodists. The game was in doubt until the last few minutes when a terrific Red and Black offense swept the opposition off its feet.

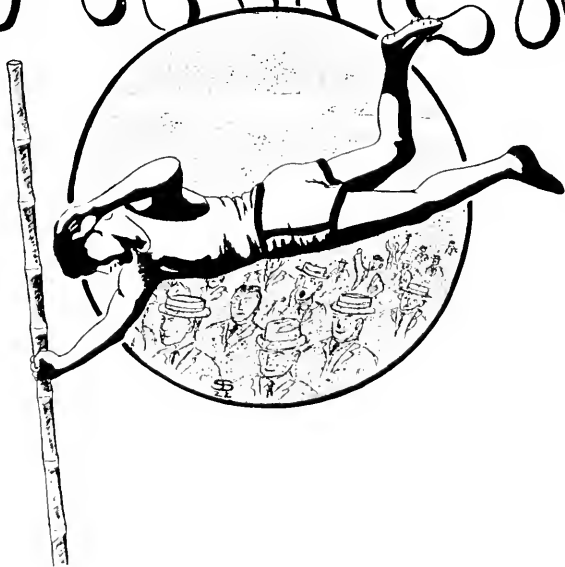

Coming home after its long absence, the quint performed before its own student body and rolled up a total of 53 points against Elon's 25. The next game was the most heartbreaking of the season, however, when Guilford invaded our country and found the picking easy for a 45 to 26 victory. The bunch seemed lost and had a terribly off-night, playing an awful game, while the visitors counted almost at will.

Going down into the Palmetto State for two games, the clan struck its stride again and wrested two games from Clemson and Wofford. The Cadets went down by a 32 to 16 score, seeming lost in the avalanche of passing displayed by the Wildcats. At Wofford, the team experienced a little more difficulty, but managed to come out on the long end of a 30 to 25 score.

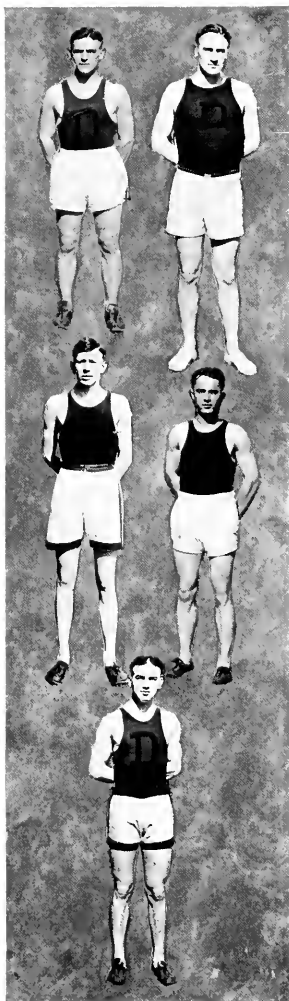

Winding up the season in a blaze of glory, Coach Hengeveld's scrapping quint tore into Wake Forest and wrested a 30 to 27 victory from the Baptists in a hard fought game. The game wound up the season and from some points seemed a trifle rough, but things were 50-50 on that score, and the Wildcats wound up a season which put them second to only one team in the State,—if any.

The team did not play the University who cleaned up everything in sight, and as yet the official announcement as to championship standing has not been announced.

TRACK

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

L. W. DICK—D* Capt. and 220, 440, 220 Hurdles

Leonard was one of the mainstays on the track team last year. Serving as captain he practically coached the whole season and due to his untiring efforts the team had a very successful season. Dick ran with about the prettiest form ever seen on the local track, and was one of the fastest men on the squad. His hurdling was of high class order and it was a pleasure to see him clear these obstacles.

R. J. KNIGHT—D* Discus and Shot

"Big m" was the heavyweight of the team and handled the disc and shot with equal ease. Knight is of powerful stature and is an ideal man at the weights. His work in the meets was especially gratifying and he brought home the bacon in fine style. With one more year to serve on the team he should prove a wonder this year.

A. F. FRICKER—D* Half Mile, Mile

"Franklin" was one of the most reliable men on the squad. He could always be counted on as being in shape for his event, and at the end was always there with plenty to spare. With a peculiarly individual stride all of his own, he stretched out in the medium distance races in grand style. He came within a few seconds of equaling the college record, so this will give you an idea as to his ability.

L. ERWIN—D 100, 220 High Jump
Pole Vault, Javelin

"Luke" was the all-around man on the squad last year, performing in six events all together. He was the speed king in the dashes and carried off several firsts in these events. Graceful and lithe he made a pretty sight speeding down the path. Quick to start made him a terror to any opponent. Although not his specialty he performed in the high jump and pole vault with accredited success. He will serve again this year.

E. B. McGUKIN—D Broad Jump

"Guke" was the broad jump artist of the squad. This well balanced accumulation of avoirdupois was extremely graceful in executing his jumps and set a creditable record for himself in the meets. He takes a medium start and a deliberate take-off with which he cleans ground in every leap. Mac still has a year in which to perform.

A. M. McBRYDE—D

Mile, Two Mile

"Mac" was one of the two Freshmen to win a letter last year. He preformed in the distance events, the mile and two mile being his specialties. Mac has a short peculiar stride for a distance man but it's a shame the way he leaves them behind. The longer the distance the better he gets and in the two mile event he cleaned up last year. With three years in front of him he ought to be a marvel in a couple of years.

DENNISTON—D

100, 220

Dennis was one of the speed artists last year. He ran in the dashes. Dennis ran in streaks, performing in fine shape on some occasions and when in one of these streaks he was never to be headed off. He had hard luck, however, and suffered from spike injuries toward the last of the season, which slowed him up considerably.

C. M. STREIBECH—D Pole Vault, High Hurdles

"Low-Pockets" was certainly a long drawn out piece of furniture and he surely made the best of his opportunities, performing in Class A style in the height events. He cleared the bar in the pole vault in fine style and came through the season with several victories. His high hurdling was also of good style.

W. F. GALLOWAY—D

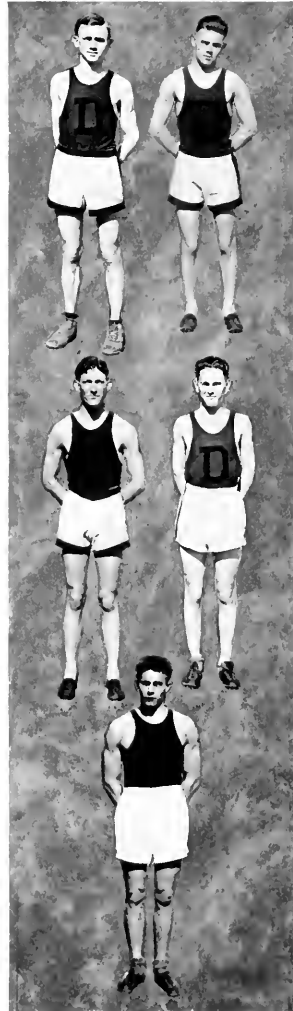

440, 880

"Gallows" was the other Freshman to win a letter this year. He preformed in the middle distance events and was about the best we had. He was especially effective in the half-mile. He has a long stride and covers ground in a most bewildering manner, seeming to have no end of breath. With three more years to serve, W. F. will be one of the premier men in the State.

E. T. GENTRY—D

High Jump
Broad Jump, Javelin

"E. T." was another man who varied his abilities. His specialty was in the high jump in which he performed in a very creditable manner. He took a slow, deliberate take-off and cleared the bar in an easy fashion. In the broad jump he also performed creditably. He was especially good also in the Javelin event. He has two more years to serve on the team, and should turn out to be a good all-around athlete before he finishes.

Track Season

f this writing the present track season is not far enough under way to give it proper consideration, so the results of last year will be given. There were six events arranged for, but the team had the extreme misfortune of being rained out on three occasions and left only three remaining.

In the Clemson meet at Clemson, the Tigers had everything there own way in the majority of the events, winning handily from the Wildcats in the opening meet of the season. The Wildcat aggregation put up a hard fight and contested most of the events hotly, but were unable to drag down the necessary first places to win. The Red and Black showed up especially strong in the distance events, however, and made good time in each of these.

The next meet was with the University of South Carolina on the local cinder path. The meet was a hotly contested one and not until the final event was the outcome certain in favor of the locals. The first places were about equally divided, and again the Wildcats showed up better in the long distances.

In the State meet the clan showed up better than in either of the individual meets. They journeyed over to Chapel Hill to compete against the rest of the colleges in the State. The whole meet was closely contested, and ended with N. C. State leading the University by a few points. Davidson ran a close third, winning several events and coming out second in several others.

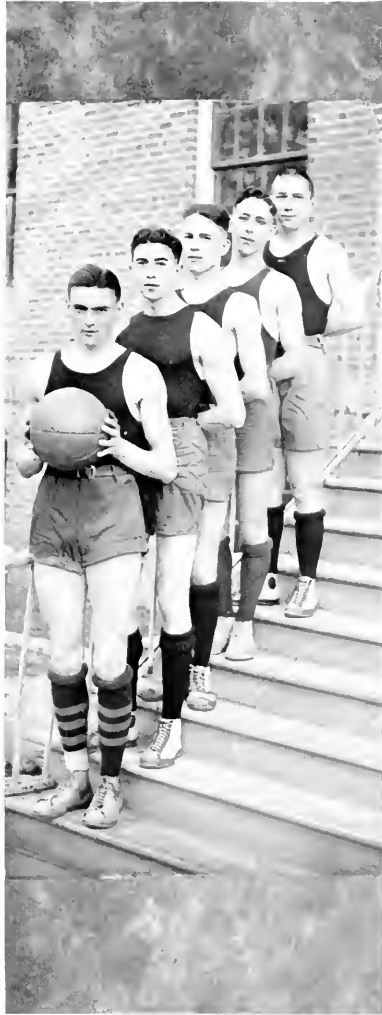

Class Basketball

This branch of class activities furnished the biggest and best competition of the year. The series was looked forward to with much interest and speculation, as the results of last year were so close. The Seniors began the season as favorites due to their preceding two years' victories without a defeat. The Juniors, however, were close rivals.

The first half of the season found the Seniors running true to form and tied for the top position with the Freshmen with two won and one lost. In the last half, however, the Juniors pulled together and went through without losing a game and the season ended with the classes of '22 and '23 tied for the rag with four victories and two defeats. The final game between these two classes was full of fight and desperately contended for, the score ending 24 to 20 in favor of the Juniors.

For the Fresh, Morrison at guard and Beale at forward did the best work. For the Sophs' Speck McConnell and Elkins were the best bets. For the Seniors, Ormond at forward and Price at guard were the outstanding features.

The Juniors formidable array included Houghton at one forward and Pete Brake at the other. These two forwards with Manze at center formed a trio that was hard to stop once it got under way, and they scored seemingly at will. With Tony at one guard and Covington at the other, a tight defense was formed which played a large factor in the teams victory.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

CLASS FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS—SENIORS

Class Baseball

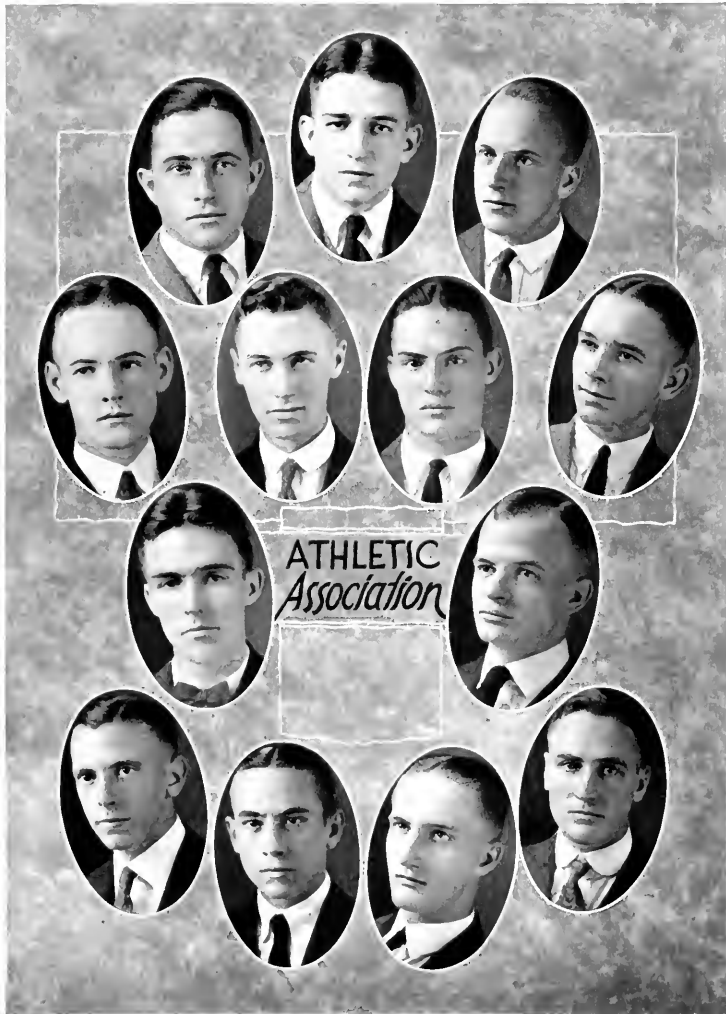

Playing three games, winning two and tying one, was enough to win the championship for the flying class of '22, in this branch of class sports. After the Fresh ('24) had eliminated the Seniors ('21) by shutting them out 5 to 0, the second game of the series found the strong Soph and Junior teams facing each other. After 11 innings of battle royal, the Junior Class of '22 finally tore off a 10 to 7 victory. The Sops then eliminated the Fresh and the Seniors and Juniors locked horns in the final tilt. The game proved a hum-dinger, ending in a 3 to 3 tie in 11 innings. In the play-off, the class of '22 completely swamped their under-classmen, walking away with a 21 to 5 victory and the championship.

For the Fresh, Boushee and Briggs played a most consistent game, the former proving himself somewhat of a twirler. For the Sops, Bill Roberts in the box carried the brunt of this department, while "Die" Richards and George Mauze scooped 'em up in the infield in regular Hal Chase fashion. For the Seniors, the twirling of the famous and renowned C. J. Mathews and the work of Sam Brady was the most conspicuous feature.

For the victorious Juniors, class of '22, Nash did the receiving while Mule Currie, Erwin L. and McFadden did turns in the box. At short, Mac Richards picked 'em up in bewildering fashion, well supported by Bertha Bethea at first; Neal at the mid-way sack, and Erwin, M., on the hot corner. Brice, Hunkey, McLeod and one of the pitchers covered the pasture positions, and gathered in everything in sight.

"Dutch" took over a new job in the Administration Office of the College this year and besides acting as Registrar, he coached the baseball and basketball. This year he turned out the most successful basketball team that ever sported the Red and Black. Dutch is a man whom everyone likes, respects and will work for. He always has a word of encouragement for every man, and by his spirit and manner puts pep and drive into the Wildcat quint and nine. As a basketball coach he has no superior in the South.

Coach's nines have always the habit of doing the unexpected. With the score against them, they are the most dangerous in the last half of the ninth with two out and the odds against them. Many a game has been pulled out of the fire at the last minute, just by the old fighting spirit our high class basketball and baseball coach exemplifies. Here's to Coach Dutch, a true gentleman and friend, and a great coach.

H. M. GREY

Football and Track

D

To "Wooly" is due the lion's share of credit for the success of the Wildcat football teams. He has worked hard and faithfully to instill the fundamentals of the pigskin art into his proteges, and from the results noted he has succeeded admirably. Always a hard worker himself while serving on the eleven, he has inculcated into the squad that never-say-die principle, his Wildcats never stop fighting until the last whistle. He put out a team this year that was successful against the two best teams in the State, tying them both, thus giving Davidson a fine record.

As Athletic Director at his Alma Mater, Coach has surely been a success. He has brought into the Wildcat realm of athletics the latest Southern branch of activity—wrestling. The squad is working faithfully due to his efforts. He has also put on the big Alumni offensive for funds to make Davidson stand where she should stand in athletics, and it takes money to do it.

We are with him to the last, and take this opportunity to praise his work.

JIM BLACK

Assistant Football Coach

"Jim" came to us from N. C. State with a fine reputation as a football player and an all-around athlete. He was well known to most of the men on the campus because Davidson was his home. He was the mentor for the Wildkittens and their fine record shows the quality of his work. Jim also helped with the coaching of the Varsity backs and ends, and much of their stellar work is due to his unceasing and valuable aid. Jim hasn't much to say, but what he does say amounts to a great deal and the grid-iron men came to like him and respect him.

He was a great asset and we surely express our appreciation.

Social Events

OCIALLY speaking, more has been done at Davidson this year than ever before. We have enjoyed the company of the fair sex to an extent never before dreamed of by the former students of our Alma Mater and all indications point to a greater extension in this direction in the future.

As heretofore, the various athletic events on the Hill have brought visitors from neighboring cities and alumni from all over the South. Though strictly informal, these occasions have been none the less enjoyable.

But, to go to the more formal occasions, the two Speakings this year have been record-breakers in several ways. The Senior event of last November is one not soon to be forgotten. Most important of all things transpiring at that time was the arrival of over one hundred and twenty-five fair visitors, not to mention the alumni and others from the various colleges of the State. For the entertainment of our visitors we were fortunate in having a football game, a minstrel and a general fraternity reception. Two of these events are common-place and need no more discussion but the Wildcat Minstrels were the second of their kind to appear here. Under the guidance of Prof. Erwin, the Dramatic Club launched this attraction and was fully repaid for its trouble by the approval and compliments of all who saw the performance. Senior Speaking ended in the usual way with the sad departure of the ladies (sad for us, at least) and the aftermath of overwork for the Post Office Department.

Not to be outdone by the class of '22, the Juniors sprang a new one on us in March. This occasion probably holds the honors as "the best in the history of the old college," a sa prominent Junior is in the habit of saying. Starting on Friday, the Freshman, Sophomore and Senior classes gave their part of the program which was three one-act plays, the success of which was also due to Professor Erwin. After this performance the second fraternity reception of the year was held. Friday afternoon and again Saturday, the Wildcats performed in great style on Sprunt field, defeating both Oak Ridge and Erskine in the great American sport. Although all the ladies had not arrived in time for the Dramatic Club presentations, the full quota of over one hundred and fifty were here before night on Saturday and helped to make the Junior Class Carnival a success. Carnivals run the entire length in different styles, but this one had them all beaten. As a distinct innovation, it was more than enjoyable. The gymnasium floor was an inch deep in sawdust for the purpose of giving the Carnival and out-door atmosphere. Stalls were provided and in them could be seen, for the price of one copper, anything from a vaudeville to Bachman, the Big Bouncing Bolivia, or a shooting gallery. Confetti was in the air, eyes and mouths and jollity reigned supreme. But again the after-math came and left most of us flat in pecuniary matters, some of us flat in our hopes of love and others walking on the air because they KNEW the "ONE and ONLY" was for them till the end—of the month at least.

Statistics must end here and speculation begin. As we are moseying along to press, wild and wistful rumors are being thrown upon our ears. It is said that commencement has more surprises in store for us. Someone has guessed that the Seniors will again agonize our visitors with one of their dramatic attempts. Another has said that—, but to tell too much might spoil the surprises that '22 is planning to spring. However, whenever anyone sees a man, walking around the campus with the air and accouterments of a retired capitalist, she or it, will have no trouble identifying said individual as a member of that class of men who will soon leave the portals of Old Davidson for good. Here's looking at you Seniors and here's hoping that your Commencement may break all records and leave behind you a glory and reputation that will live as long as our Alma Mater.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

If I could write one little word
Upon the hearts of men,
I'd dip into the fount of love
And write with golden pen
One little word and only one,
And feel life's work on earth well done ;
For every heart would speak to me
That one sweet word "Fraternity."

The Davidson College Dramatic Club

The Davidson College Dramatic Club was organized in the Fall of 1920 under the supervision of Professor Erwin. Its successes since that time have been due to a very large extent to his and Mrs. Erwin's efforts and enthusiasm. In its first year, a minstrel and three one-act plays were given and the possibilities of such an organization were seen. This year it started out again with a minstrel in November and during Junior Speaking three more one-act plays were given. To complete the year in good form, the Senior Class, with the aid of the Club, will present a three-act play at Commencement.

Ed Nash as president, John Curry, as business manager, and W. K. McKain, as property man, have all done their best in its behalf and all deserve a great amount of credit for its success.

Prospects for the future seem to be even better than heretofore as the lower classes have become interested and have shown that they can put a play across as well as the Juniors and Seniors. It is, perhaps, safe to say that the next year or two will see either the Minstrel or some of the plays going on the road for a half dozen performances.

Davidson vs. Mercer University

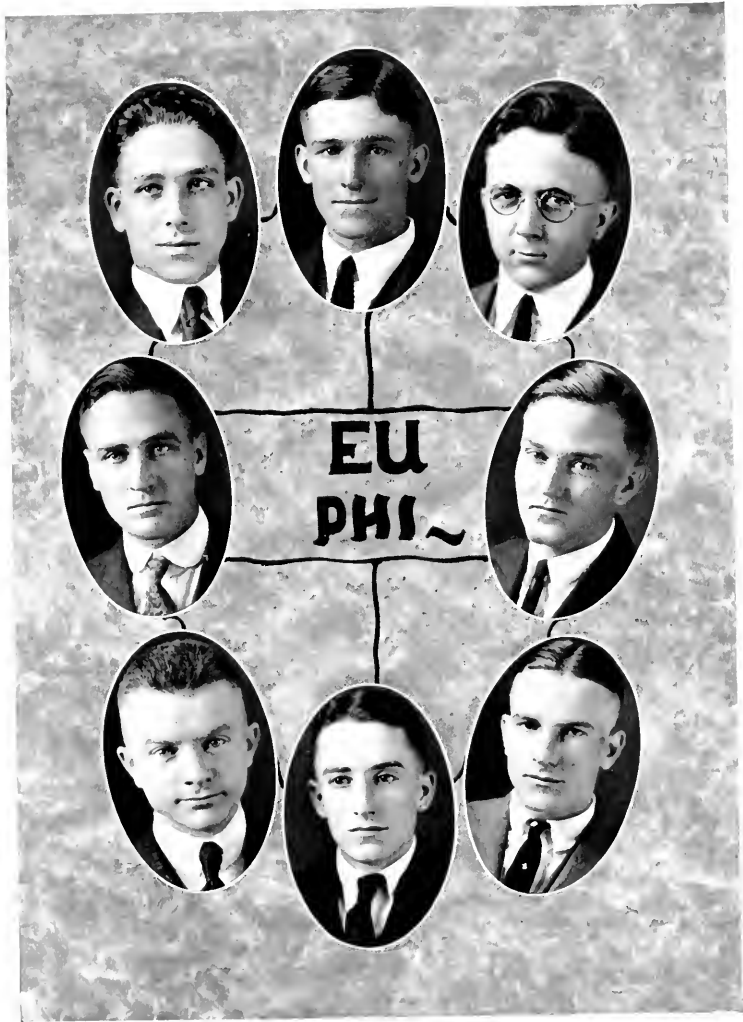

A. P. Ormond and J. M. Dunlap, with L. A. Taylor as business manager, composed the second team of the Spring term. On April 28th, these men, after extracting various and sundry stones and brick from their suit-cases, boarded the "Eleven-fifty" bound for Hartsville, S. C., where they were to meet two eloquent but ferocious representatives of Mercer University for the third annual clash.

Coker College was the chosen place of meeting, and 'tis said the walls of her Assembly Halls, put into vibration by Percy's eloquent fury, still vibrate.

The subject for this debate was: "Resolved, That the War Debt Which the Allies Owe the United States Should be Cancelled." Mercer, having choice of sides, chose to uphold the negative side; Davidson defended the affirmative. From the moment that "Percy" Ormond took the floor, as first speaker, until "time's up" was called on "Pos" Dunlap, the old hall echoed and re-echoed an eloquent flow of words.

It was obvious from the beginning that in Mercer, Davidson had no mean foe. For a time it would have been difficult to pick a winner, but Ormond and Dunlap proved too much for Mercer. The judges' decision gave Mercer on, Davidson four.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1922

By rapid strides the offspring of the Eumenean Literary Society, formed the latter half of the Fall term, has arrived at full grown maturity. Although the failure of any plan for the formation of two new societies was prophesied freely by the campus wise-acters, the flourishing condition of both the Pandemic and Metrophilian Societies believeth their statements. Advancement in this line should have come long ago, and now that it is here, is welcomed by all.

For a long time the large enrollment of the Eus has been the cause of much decline in literary activity, due to the scant possibility of its members participating in the program more than once or twice a year. Discussions of various plans ensued and the one finally adopted was that of encouraging the formation of a new society from present members of the old Eumenean.

In accordance with this plan about thirty Eus withdrew the first half of December and banded themselves together under the leadership of J. P. Price. As quickly as possible a constitution was drawn up and adopted and under its provisions officers were elected and the society was named the Pandemic Literary Society.

Since the days of childhood (about five months ago) the society has progressed wonderfully. The acquisition of Fresh, Soph, Juniors and Seniors has added new life and vigor to the work. As an evidence of the ability of its members the fact can be cited that all three men on the team which debated Wake Forest were "Pans." The rapid growth and development of this institution and that of its sister society, bids fair to introduce a much needed revival of the vocal art here at Davidson.

QUIPS AND CRANKS -1922

The Metrophilian Literary Society was organized December 1, 1921. Meeting a long felt need at Davidson for a broader field for work of this type, since the two established societies have not been able to meet the demands of an ever increasing number of students.

The membership of the society is understood to consist of students from North Carolina. The organizers being former members of the Philanthropic Society, who were willing to foster the interest of the new organization yet they still wish for the old society a new era of growth and usefulness, as the new name implies—"Metrophilian" (Mother loving) derived from the Greek ΜΗΤΡΩΣ mother and ΦΙΛΟΣ love. This appropriate name was suggested by Dr. Harding and was selected from many submitted.

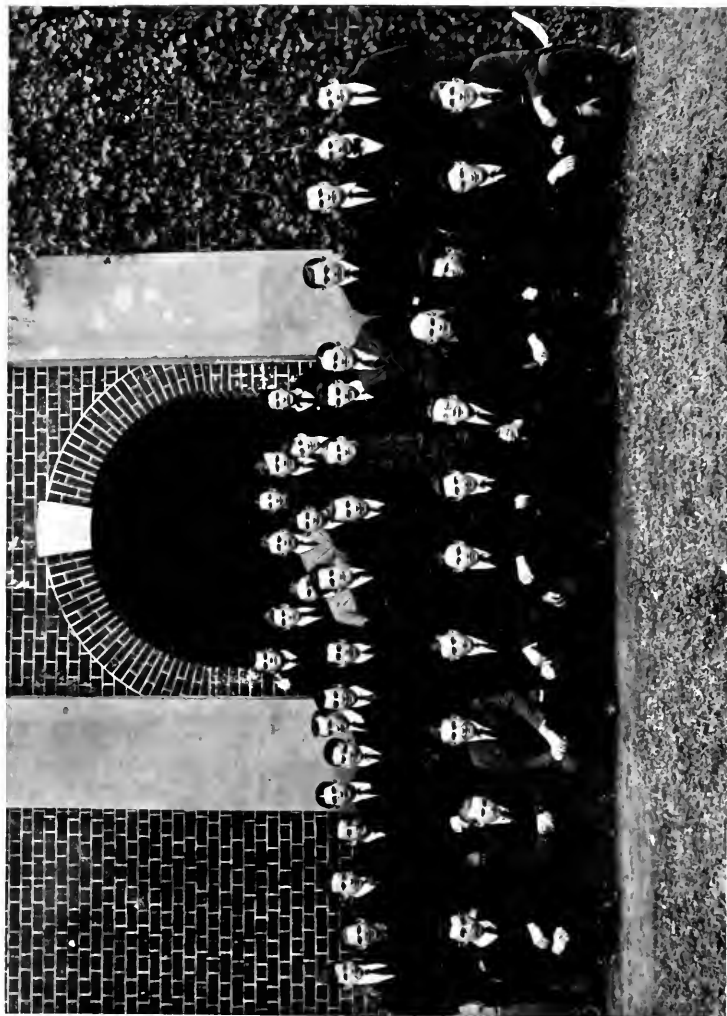

The list below gives the names of the Charter Members of the society.

The Gossiper

Dear Editor:

A complete resume of our rooming conversation (a source of much enjoyment and deep consideration) before me, invites this opportunity to pen off a few lines for your earnest approval before retiring. It is indeed to be deplored that the third floor is lacking in others who appreciate the glory to be had from the exactness of good conversation, but such is the case, and it becomes necessary then to communicate with you through the medium of a letter, as a visit in person is impossible, due to the fact that I have off my boots.

I took occasion to observe the speech of different students today, and I am convinced after giving them an honest trial, that their speech brands them as inferior beings. "What is my standard?" do you say. My dear and learned friend, do not permit your worthy self to entertain a passing thought of flattery in your mind, for what I am about to say would tempt one of callous mind and simple reasoning to accept my assertion as such; but you and I may safely acknowledge our superiority and culture as an almost incomparable standard, and one that is gazed up to from the common hordes as a thing unattainable. And it is in pity and mortification that I realize that this position will be of joint tenure for ourselves due to the scarcity of material and absence of desire to share this exalted condition in life. But we must be charitable, my friend, indeed we must not look with condemnation upon these unfortunates, for to do so is to drop to their level and suffer in your own estimation as a result of conscientious reasoning.

The analysis of this slovenly herd shows two or three who are representative of a class, and it is my pleasure to be able to disclose their identity and class in a logical and strictly truthful light.

This person they call "The Sweede." He is of unspeakable appearance, prehistoric bearing, given to wild gestures, eats with gluttonous fury and abides in an unkept abode, supremely happy. We might overlook these shortcomings; because no two men know better than ourselves that evolution is still in operation, and we might give him benefit of the doubt and entertain faint hopes for the best. But what is beyond our benevolent nature is to countenance his utter disregard of the rich and elegant language we have inherited from its masters, only to have this sluggard profane it, slash it, corrupt it by his own vulgar attempts to speak the foul working of his dwarfed and celluloid brain. I tell you, Groves, it is a disgrace to all that is refinement and culture to allow this hair brained imbecile to live. Forgive me if I seem to depart from charity, but charity like all things material and mental cannot endure forever. Indeed the quality is meant to be strained but not broken. Do you not agree with me?

Thus I have endeavored to present the facts of this human being in mental destitution without artificial color or personal feeling. It is now for you to observe and see that I know whereof I speak. My first desire was to enlist your aid in the application of cudgels to the seemingly impregnable skull of this slovenly one, but my better judgment told me that our personal violence would be of no consequence as you cannot make an impression upon a stone agate with anything short of highly explosive chemicals placed at a point of vantage. The only point of vantage that I can see is the aperture known as his mouth, and to fill this with explosives would cost a fabulous sum of money.

I must check my desire to continue this communication because the near proximity of the time to extinguish lights demands that I disrobe and gird my weary loins with an outing night shirt. But be not dismayed—tomorrow I will deliver an estimate of the second type—this fellow known as Hughes.

I once knew a girl who was so extremely modest, she refused to do improper fractions.

Dear Pa:

Pa you know I wrote you last time and told you and ma that I was going to write you about the football trips we was going to take. Well, we took it and sho had a time. You see the game was going to be played on Saturday and all of us that went didn't have to go on no classes, so I went. The Friday night before the Saturday of the game, pa, was some sight to see, pa. All of us was scared, pa, and you could see freshmen running to and fro on business, pa, of any nature from borrowing a dollar to returning a toothbrush. Another noticeable thing, pa, of the evening was the various "Izies" on the campus going from room to room selling every article mentionable and some inmentionable ones, pa.

Our cheer leaders, Roudy Sam, Loud Knox and Jane Bug Price made us all go up to chapel, pa and we held a pep meeting. There was more pep than meeting, pa. Simmons had his famous stick band out and we could not hear for listening to the racket.

The next morning boys began to get up at day break, pa, so we could get breakfast and catch the train. When the train pulled in the street leading to the station was blocked so most of us had to get there some other way. Anyhow pa, we most of us got there and after we had bought our tickets were ready to get on the train. Well, most everybody waited until the train was ready to leave before getting on, so it had to make out like it was going to leave two or three times before we could all get on.

Pa, you ought to have seen the crowd on that train—everybody and his brother was there, and we all just kept walking from one end to the other to see if we had left anybody, but don't think we had time to find out, pa. You know, pa, the town we were going to is where Brown's Mule and Prince Albert is made and it is about 70 miles north of here, more or less, so it took about two or three hours to get there, but we all got there and I believe everybody knew when we got there.

Well, pa, all the Greeks in town had a big business that day 'cause we all et dinner at their stores, then about two thirty we all went to the game. The game was a mighty good one and ended in a tie. It was mighty cold that day and I wished many a time I had brought a quilt along but I forgot it so I staid cold just the same.

Well, pa, after the game we all went up town and went around seeing the things and all et again then we all got back on the train again and come home. It didn't take long to come home but I was glad it didn't. Anyway we all got back and did not get hurt and had a big time.

Guess I had better close, pa, so I can go to bed, cause you see, pa, its most bed-time and if I don't stop before long, pa, the light will go out and I will have to go to bed in the dark, pa.

Giv ma my love, pa, and write me about our new calves, pa.

Your son,

HIRAM.

MODERN HISTORY.

Knowing the situation and understanding the facts and details, it behoves me to make public the truth as it confronts the public today. Should we must was? We could because it is very probable that we ought to. And therefore it can be easily seen by all those who care not for follies and dill pickles that we should have had not, there should have been, but was not. And now Ladies and Gentlemen, as I stare this howling mob in the face I recall the words of my friend, Pochahontas, who once said:

"We are all held in the death grip of silence."

Our subject to night is History, History, History, but why study History? WHY? There's your answer—WHY?

When Brutus led Sousa's band over the hills of Wyoming in search of Little Red Riding Hood it was a well-known fact that Caesar had crossed the Delaware River in search of The Fountain of Youth. That was in the year fifteen eighty some odd.

And in the latter part of the steenth century Napoleon sailed on an unprofitable tour of the Atlantic Ocean.

But Still—How Still? The woods were still for had they not been Golden Locks could not have hung on to the tail of a jazzing Reindeer, while being pursued, cussed, and discussed by the Three Bears, who were shot by Henry 8th.

Now let us consider some men of History. There was Geo. Washington, Ben Franklin, and last but by no means least, United States Grant, who copyrighted, originated, and asked "Will

THE GOSSIPER

"Spearmint hold its flavor on the bed post over night?"

I spoke of Geo. Washington—let us dwell here yet a moment. Geo. was brave—as a boy he was not afraid to tell the truth—as a young man he was not afraid of the Indians—as a general he was not afraid of the British soldiers, as President of the United States he was not afraid of Congress, and in private life he was not afraid of his wife's cook.

Now let us consider Abe Lincoln who as you know helped build the house in which he was born. It has been said that he walked seventeen miles for a copy of the "Whizz Bang." After he had become Pres. of the U. S. and had taken up his abode in the White House he had orders issued to all the servants that they would have no more scolloped oysters—he preferred the ruffled.

It was Christopher Columbus who sat on the single tree of his ship for many moons trying to find the U. S. of America to see if they had received his wireless message. He was the first Statesman to sail around an egg. Also the first man to visit Arkansas the only State that is spoken of in the Bible—tor did not Noah come out of the Ark-and-Saw.

I would like to speak of Aristotle—was it Aris? I am not sure but it was one of the other Tottle boys, who was killed by the falling of the Hanging Gardens of Babylon.

Now, Ladies and Gentlemen, I detain to publish this epistle of Vt. for as you know hogs run wild in N. C. and since prohibition has gained a foot hold in the heart of Ala. it yet remains to be seen that all is not well in Japan. So with this little poem written by Wm. the Conqueror on the night that Ben Hur dropped an alley apple on the coco of the Czar of Russia I close.

(Poem)

The boy stood on the burning deck,
His fleece was white as snow,
He stuck a feather in his hat,
John Anderson, my Jo.

"Come back, come back, he cried in grief

A SHORT STORY

Yes, Short But True

At a time back during the scholastic year (rather a scholastic term, eh wat?) when, by a very rare coincidence, several boys were able to find a little loafing time, they came together in an informal meeting, known by the very plebeian name of Bull Session.

It so happened that on this special occasion these free and uncontaminated minds were delving into the intricacies or deeper thought and had started phylosophizing upon the extreme diminutiveness of the earth and the large percentage of its surface that had contributed to the personnel of the student body of Davidson.

When the writer joined the crowd Ray Doubles was ranting on the blue blood of Virginia and her wonderful scenery, not to mention her commercial possibilities and so forth. You see, Ray was raised in Virginia, and he's read all about blue blood and black eyes.

Sectionalism got started then with the interruption by Major Phillips. "West Virginia is the great state of the two. Look at her wonderful mountains, mines and mills. She has her sister beat in many ways."

"But never Georgia." Pat Miller was coming to life. "Who has not heard of the Georgia peaches, served both in baskets and silk dresses. They lead the world. And her cities—"

"—Are not nearly so good as those of Tennessee," spoke up the Duke of Athens. "All our cities are gilded and our stock farms lead the South. Our mules are—"

"—The meanest and most hard-headed ones on the market. I know, 'cause I've plowed 'em myself and used to ride one to town to school before I came up here." Friend Brown Hamer then finished his share of the conversation by telling all he had ever heard in favor of The Sand Lapper State.

"And our Delta grows as good cotton as South Carolina," lowed Parson Crane. "It also has a rep for good looking peaches of Pat's silk skirt variety."

The gentleman from Florida, Mr. Sharpe, held us all in awe and admiration while he unfolded to us the wonder of the greatest of all the states, his home state. He began with fish and oranges and ended with pine lumber and spirits—of turpentine.

Common to all gatherings of a loafing nature held in and around Davidson, Sam Story was in the crowd. He listened with great avidity until Sharpe was half through and then began slipping off. But a Sherlock was in the group.

"Sam," he called, "tell us about your home state."

"By gollie," yelled back the culprit, "I'm from North Carolina, and I'll shoot the man that laughs."

A SOCIAL OCCASION.

One of the most enjoyable social occasions of the year was a pink tea given by the bashful Dr. LaFar. The interior of his Watts suites was beautifully decorated with dog fennels and gourd vines. The lighting effects were wonderful. Both globes were covered with black socks from which hung pale green ribbons artistically arranged.

The guests came promptly at 5:00 o'clock and were met at the door by dainty Brown Hamer, who relieved them of their hats, coats and any other things he could get his hands on. They were then ushered into the artistically decorated reception room. Here they met their hospitable host. The entertainment of the evening consisted in making water color paintings and playing jack straws. Then suddenly a sound was heard and everyone's attention was attracted to the beautifully dressed waiters, the Misses McAlpine and Walthall bringing in trays covered with luscious Zu Zu snaps; followed closely behind came the Misses Allen and Lake, bringing in largers of sasafraass tea. These were served in elegant fashion and at 6.00 o'clock everyone was gone, having expressed to their charming hostess their appreciation for the enjoyable afternoon it had been their good fortune to partae in.

Later the city police was called in to search for missing articles. Also, later a doctor was called.

THE SAD STORY OF HOW FRANK McLEOD BECAME A SHELL SHOCKED VETERAN.

It so happened that the time of the year was bleak December; the foliage of the trees had long went and lay upon the ground as a great mat covering the seedlets which were to appear as flowers of the great woods in the spring. Such a day, as it were, turns the minds of hunters to the woods and fields. Frank McLeod, being by calling a lover of nature and a student thereof, raised with a cap pistol in one hand and a pop gun in the other, heard the call of the great out of doors, and the lust to kill awoke within his heart. (Kind readers, if you have ever felt this call, you will understand his feeling, so deal gently with him accordingly).

His blood-lit eyes hungrily scanned the four walls of his abode, and smiled as his gaze rested on his old firing iron lung up on the wall in all its glory. A brief description of said weapon will not be out of place. It was of Shooten & Weep's best model (age considered), 10 gauge, single barrell (being, as its master, a bachelor by make), full choke, (ah, even as you would be choked by the blackness of the smoke which gushed forth at each shot), having a hammer (which truly gave appearance of a peacock if held at the right angle), and wihal, without and within minus a trigger guard (it's only redeeming feature). It is needless to say it was his pride and jey. Donning his "Hunting Habit" and taking the old war horse from the wall, he ventured forth to slay any and all of the beasts of the field which should perchance cross his path.

The great field to which he betook himself was indeed brilliant with the brush called "sage." Why it was thus named he knew not, and cared far less. The great sun which according to his man of the field, had risen in the East and from all appearances to him has decided to depart from its usual course and sink to rest in the same said East.

Hardly had our hero reached the field when his wandering disturbed the resting quadruped, who is to play an important part in this curious account. In great haste and urged to his best speed by fear, this animal of the hair specie, fled across the great sea of sage. Yanking the old spit-fire to his shoulder and carefully, yet hastily aiming, Frank pulled the trigger. The hammer fell on a dead shell. The fleeing bunny, hearing the snap, turned around. The roar of laughter he, or possibly she, uttered was the like seldom heard by human ears. Reloading as quickly as possible, with a shell which gave a promise of having more powder than its failing brother, Frank again took aim and fired. Great was the explosion which rent the air. So great, in fact, that the ground trembled with a great trembling (and Frank should know, for he was flat of his back on it), mighty trees fell as toothpicks, and the beasts of the field gave vent to their horror with loud screams. Slowly rising to his feet (slowly, indeed, for he was of the opinion at first that every lone in his body was broken) Frank saw the rabbit, struck motionless by terror and shaken to death by the great trembling of the ground.

So it was that Frank McLeod killed his first rabbit in Mecklenburg County, N. C. The result of which was a serious case of shell shock. —Selah.

A Gateway to Progress

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories—tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battle ships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millions, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electrical tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.

A College Man's Ideal

"We want an America of homes, illumined with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may preside as befits the hearthstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development, and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to best citizenship."---From President Harding's Inaugural Address.

The highest type of American Citizenry is the product of our educational institutions and the above is an ideal which you will do well to work toward. It is an ideal which the institution of life insurance is peculiarly fitted to realize and each policy taken now in your youth is a step toward the attainment of that ideal.

For the past fifteen years the Educational Department of the Bureau of Engraving, Inc., has been collecting a vast fund of information from the experiences of hundreds of editors and managers of Annuals.

This data covering organization, financing, advertising, construction, selling and original features has been systematically tabulated and forms the subject matter for our series of reference books. These are furnished free to those securing "Bureau" co-operation in the making of engravings for their books.

Begin where others have left off. Profit by their experience and assure success for your Annual.

Designing & Printing College Annuals

A careful inspection of the Art Work, Typography, Presswork, and Binding in this annual, and all other annuals produced by us will, we believe, convince the most skeptical of our claim to be especially equipped to execute high class printing.

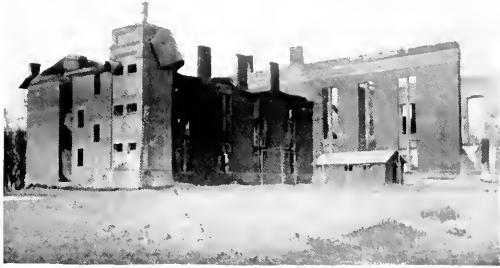

Our organization is made up of men who take pride in their work--our equipment is second to none in the state--and these two, combined with rare business service, insures our patrons of entire satisfaction.

Consult us about your printing needs, large or small. We give the small work our careful attention just the same as the large.
